Davis Says Registrar Bill Requested in Letter From Beach Council

Time Extended For Two More Weeks To Receive Bids On Erosion Project

The Town Council passed an ordinance authorizing the issuance of temporary notes in the amount of $17,500 for the purchase of the USO building, with the limit of time for maturity placed at December 31, 1948.

The meeting, held Tuesday evening, and presided over by Mayor H. Wardfield Leake in the presence of a large attendance, assumed a dignified and orderly atmosphere, contrary to usual procedure. All councilmen were in attendance, however, R. A. Jones, clerk, was absent from the meeting.

A two weeks extension on bids for the proposed groins to correct beach erosion was granted. The firms asking for plans and specifications desire additional time to figure the work, and prepare the estimates.

Bids from J. J. Williams, A. S. Mundy and Birch Construction were received for laying pipe for new water mains in the town in an effort to ease the water shortage suffered during the season. The Birch Construction Co. was awarded the contract on the low bid of $18,182. An alternate cost-time clause was incorporated in the contract to the effect that the work will not exceed the original bid of $18,182.

Pipe for the work has been ordered from the Lynchburg Foundry at an estimated cost of $27,000. Town engineers Nicholson and Petty stated they had requested the State Sanitation Commission to do what they could to speed delivery on the pipe but were advised that May was the earliest possible date for delivery.

Highway Repair

Councilman Haycox suggested that a forceful reminder be sent the State Highway Department of their obligation to repair highways under their supervision. Atlantic Avenue is a State highway and poor drainage conditions exist where Cavalier Drive enters Atlantic Avenue, at 22nd, 23rd and at 26th Streets. Nicholson announced that if the State Highway Department did not see fit to correct the condition that steps would have to be taken by the town to alleviate the trouble.

The acting secretary read a letter from Gerold M. Rumble, commanding members of the Virginia Beach Fire Department and Volunteer Department for efficient service rendered when sparks from the chimney of his home in Obermeier set fire to the roof of the house.

Boy Scouts Display Activities In Four Window Models

Boy Scouts of Virginia Beach will have displays in four store windows in the shopping districts of the town. Each window will exemplify some scouting activity. W. K. MacDonald, scout leader, said that the Troop Committee would give prizes for the best window, and through the courtesy of Fuel, Feed and Building Supplies, Corp., Cherry-Pearson, Shelly Appliance and Music Corp. and Tobin's, window space has been provided for the displays. Four patrols will make the displays which will handiwork and other phases of scout activity.

National Scout week is being observed throughout the country from February 6 to 12 with February 8 designated as Scout Sunday. Mr. MacDonald said that scouts were urged to attend their own churches in uniform and sit in a group. In each church a ranking scout will be in charge of the group.

GIRL SCOUT RALLY

Approximately 300 Girl Scouts representing 8 troops gathered in the USO building at Virginia Beach last Saturday afternoon for the annual rally. Mrs. F. W. Cox, Oceana neighborhood chairman, was in charge of the meeting.

H. W. Chaffee congratulated the leaders on the remarkable progress made by the Princess Anne group, in the growth in numbers and interest shown by members and leaders.

Group singing and other activities were engaged in after which refreshments were served.

Lynnhaven Civic League Approves State Sales Tax

The Lynnhaven Civic League went on record as endorsing the proposed sales tax at its February meeting on Monday evening. Mr. James Garrington, president, stated that members of the League wished the tax to be earmarked specifically for school purposes and must be a luxury tax and not applied to items of necessity such as clothes and food.

This vote is the outcome of a request by Representative Davis, Garrington said, who wishes to ascertain the opinion of members of the Princess Anne Civic League.

The County League is made up of leagues in East Ocean View, Chesapeake Beach, Lynnhaven, Glen Rock and Lake Terras. All but two of the leagues have reported favorably inclined to the tax but each specified the luxury tax for schools alone. Mr. Harris, president of the united leagues, said.

The next meeting of the Princess Anne Civic Council will be held in the Lynnhaven Hall on Wednesday, February 11th, at 8:00 P. M. Mr. Harris said that he would hear reports from all the leagues at this meeting.

March of Dimes Committee Meets

All committee chairman and workers on the Infantile Paralysis March of Dimes drive will meet in the Presbyterian Church on February 11 at 10:30 a.m. Mrs. Sidney Kellam, chairman, said the meeting is for the purpose of counting money and tabulating final results.

The drive officially ended on January 26 but was carried over one more week in an endeavor to increase the contributions as Mrs. Kellam said from all reports contributions would not come up to the 1947 drive. A full attendance of all workers is requested by Mrs. Aubrey Holmes, general chairman for Princess Anne County.

"The Year round Playground" acquired a different look when scenes like the above greeted the eye during the recent snow. Freezing weather brought ice skates and automobile chains for those who had them. For those who didn't, warm firesides or slippery roads.

Local Red Cross Chapter Plans To Ship Garments to Needy on February 29

Articles which have been made for the Princess Anne chapter of the Red Cross by local sewers will be shipped from headquarters on February 29th. Mrs. E. C. Johnson, chairman of sewing, said that a few dresses to be made for children and women were at headquarters and anyone wishing to aid in completing the quota could secure them. Mrs. Johnson said that all articles should be at headquarters by February 15th in order to have them packed for shipment.

Secretary Attend Institute

Miss Pearl Dwy, executive secretary of the local chapter, spent two days in Richmond last week attending a Red Cross Institute at the John Marshall Hotel. Miss Dwy said the subject under discussion at the meeting was "Veteran's Claims," and was led by Clayton Steery, from the field director's office of the Veteran's Administration, and Mrs. Frances Hatway, a Virginia Red Cross Home Service Field Consultant.

Blood Bank For Red Cross

A meeting in the interest of the recently organized free blood banks was held in Norfolk last week. Princess Anne County will come under the direction of the Norfolk bank.

News of the progress of this organization came from the office of the Regional Director who said: "The American Red Cross has bought about 45,000 blood transfusion recipient sets from war-surplus stocks. The sets, built for war time use in the field, cost the government 90 cents each and were sold to the Red Cross for 10 cents each."

J. M. Armstrong, Richmond regional director, said that the sets were located on the West Coast but that the ARC would make distribution to their headquarters throughout the United States.

It is understood that the blood recipient sets will be used in the Red Cross blood bank campaign.

The apparatus was new and was examined and approved by the Federal Food and Drug Administration. Sets sealed in metal tubes, consist of glass filter housing, metal filter, rubber tubing and one 18-gauge airway canula needle.

Postponed P.T.A. To Meet Monday

The regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of the W. T. Cooke School will be held on Monday, February 9th, at 3:15 P. M.

Mrs. Leo Billey, chairman, stated that the program as planned for the meeting last week would be carried out Monday. Due to the heavy snowfall and closing of the school last Monday the meeting was postponed.

Follies Cabaret To Feature Fashions

Members of the Cabaret Committee for the Beach Follies, Junior Women's Club production scheduled for March 3rd, met at the home of Mrs. Charles Forbes, general chairman, Pocomantas Drive, on Monday evening.

The Cabaret is an added attraction to be held in the Panorama Room of the Cavalier Hotel and Cabana Club following the presentation of the Follies at the Beach Theatre.

Mrs. Forbes appointed the following committees: Mrs. R. C. Deal, Jr., will be in charge of reservations; Entertainment, Mrs. J. L. LaGiglia; Refreshments, Mrs. Randolph O'Dell and Mrs. F. P. Whitehurst, Jr.; Prizes and Favors, Mrs. L. J. Kitchen, Mrs. J. G. Mangie and Mrs. R. L. Kennet; Mrs. F. M. Williams, Jr., will be in charge of Publicity; Surf Fashions will be under the direction of Mrs. Menard Dowell.

Mrs. Williams announces that elaborate plans for a gay evening are in progress with local talent participating. She also said that participants are not limited to members of the club or their husbands, and anyone wishing to aid in the program will be welcomed.

Reservations will be accepted by Mrs. Deal, phone 1997-R; Mrs. Williams, 85-W-2 or Mrs. Whitehurst, 1699-J.

Mrs. Forbes announces the next meeting of her Cabaret Committee to be Wednesday, February 11th, at 7:30 P. M. in the Cavalier Hotel ballroom.

Lynnhaven Bible Class To Present "Night of Hilarity"

The Men's Bible Class of the Lynnhaven Presbyterian Church will present an entertainment at the Oceana High School on February 17th called "A Night of Hilarity."

Beverly Sykes, assisted by J. C. Van Horn, is general chairman of the affair, and says that professional and local talent will be on the program. Trafton Robertson of WTAR, will act as master of ceremonies, and will bring his famous "chipmunks" to perform. Norman Phelps and his orchestra will furnish the music for the evening, and local talent, to be announced later, will be featured.

Since its inception the church has held all meetings in the church auditorium, which Mr. Sykes says is becoming too crowded and unsatisfactory. The entire proceeds from this entertainment will be directed to a Sunday school building fund.

Mrs. J. W. Wake, Jr., and Mrs. A. L. Redfern are in charge of advertising in the program.

DAVIS STRIKES EMERGENCY NOTE FROM CITY MANAGER BILL; BILL GOES BACK TO SUB-COMMITTEE

Council members, representative business men from Virginia Beach and politicians from Princess Anne County motored to Richmond yesterday to express views for and against the two bills which appeared before legislative committees at 3:30 o'clock.

The outstanding development of the session, according to one member of the group from the Beach, was when representative Davis fortified his presentation of the bill relative to the appointment of a general registrar by producing a letter which he said was written and signed by members of the Town Council of Virginia Beach, requesting him to give his support to the bill.

When questioned about the letter Mayor Leake said that he had no knowledge of such a letter written as council action nor had the matter been presented at any open council meeting in Virginia Beach. The Bill in question provides:

TB Fellowships To Be Established

The establishment of a number of teaching and research fellowships in the field of tuberculosis by the National Tuberculosis Association was announced recently by Mr. Henry B. Miller, Jr., president of the Virginia Tuberculosis Association. This information, according to Mr. Miller, was received from Dr. Edmund R. Long, director of the NTA's Division of Research. The fellowships are being established on the recommendation of the executive committee of the NTA's medical section, the American Trudeau Society.

Annual stipends for the fellowships will range from $2,400 to $3,200, according to Mr. Miller. Provision will also be made for laboratory fees and incidental expenses of like character.

The fellowships will be limited to graduates of American schools for teaching and investigation in the United States. While preference will be given to applicants with a Doctor of Philosophy or Doctor of Medicine degree, fellowships will not be restricted to the holders of these degrees.

Applications will be considered in the fields of pathology and bacteriology, clinical medicine, epidemiology and social and statistical research. Applicants may elect the institutions in which they wish to study.

Persons interested in obtaining a fellowship should write to Dr. James E. Perkins, Managing Director, National Tuberculosis Association, 1790 Broadway, New York 19, N. Y., for further information.

C & P Expanding Phone Facilities

The board of directors of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia at its January meeting authorized expenditures amounting to more than $2,900,000 for the expansion and improvement of telephone facilities throughout the state.

A total of $2,900,000 in additional expenditures was approved by the board in order to carry out improvement and expansion projects throughout Virginia.

Commenting on these appropriations, A. L. Lambdin, vice president and general manager of the C. and P., said that the additional expenditures had been made necessary because of sharp increases in labor and material costs since original expenditures for the 39 projects had been authorized.

As Talbot, of Princess Anne County, is in force from its passage.

"Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia. That an act entitled 'An act to incorporate the town of Virginia Beach in the county of Princess Anne, Virginia, approved March sixth, nineteen hundred six, be amended by adding a new section numbered four-a, as follows: Section 4-a. The council of the town of Virginia Beach may, in its discretion, elect a town manager who may also serve as town engineer. Upon the election of a town manager by the council he shall be vested with the administrative and executive powers of the town and shall hold office during the pleasure of the council. He shall receive such compensation as shall be fixed by the council. The town manager shall see that within the town laws, ordinances, resolutions and by-laws of the council are faithfully executed. He shall attend all meetings of the council and recommend for adoption such measures as he shall deem expedient. He shall make reports to the council from time to time upon the affairs of the town, keep the council fully advised of the town's financial condition and its future financial needs. He shall prepare and submit to the council a tentative budget for each fiscal year. He shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed by the council and shall be bonded as the council may deem necessary.

"An emergency exists and this act is in force from its passage." Spoken for the Civic Forum stated that Mr. Davis had asked if it would be agreeable to eliminate the "emergency" clause from the bill. However, Henry Withers, a spokesman, stated that the position of Forum members was unchanged in that they felt a referendum was the desired method of ascertaining the will of the majority of citizens of the community on the subject.

Registrar Bill

As far as could be learned, the other bill, which was for the revision of the Town Charter in order to enable Councilmen to appoint a town manager, was referred back to a sub-committee to ascertain if the action would be in accord with legislative law. It was understood that the "emergency" clause was written into this bill which postpones the enactment date to June 14. This date follows the June 8th Constitutional election. It was understood from a member of the group who opposed the passage of the bill that they were not opposed to a town manager if it was the will of the people but the opposition was based on the denial of a referendum to ascertain the will of the majority of citizens.

The bill on the Town charter revision reads as follows:

"Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia. The electoral Board of each county having a population of not less than nineteen thousand nor more than twenty-nine thousand and adjoining a city having a population of not less than one hundred forty thousand, all according to the last preceding United States census, shall appoint a general registrar for each town in such county which has a population in excess of twenty-five hundred inhabitants. Each such registrar so appointed shall take office on March One, nineteen hundred forty-eight, and shall hold office for one year and until his successor is duly appointed and qualified. Such general registrar shall assume all duties of the present registrar in such town, and shall act for the purpose of registration of voters on any additional days as may be prescribed by the electoral board. He shall be subject to and governed by the general laws of Virginia applicable to registrars.

"An emergency exists and this act is in force from its passage."

Junior Woman's Club of Princess Anne County Hears Art Talk at Meeting

Art in its many phases was the topic for lecture and round table discussion at the social meeting of the Junior Women's Club Tuesday evening.

The program was under the direction of Mrs. J. W. Allen, Jr., chairman of the Art and Crafts Department, who presented Mrs. Winifred Nixon Greene, local artist and designer. Mrs. Greene exhibited some of her weaving and designs of wall paper and cloths, which are being manufactured by large concerns in New York.

A LENTEN THOUGHT

"No man's life can rise higher than the things he loves and the things for which he lives."

Ash Wednesday is February 11 and in the above lines of Dr. Upperman we find a Lenten sermon. Only as we individuals and as a nation set our ideals high can we hope for victory over the trails of life.

If we love the great things in life—friendliness toward and among all peoples, honest work done in the spirit of service, if we live by a code of honor, giving our word carefully and keeping it precisely—then we can rise to the heights where we want to dwell. We cannot rise if we put selfishness before selflessness, personal prejudice before brotherly love.

In order to achieve the ends we desire we need wisdom to act justly, kindness to deal mercifully, understanding and tolerance of our fellow man.

Mary Stewart has given us a message in a prayer in which we should all join, not only for the Lenten season but for always:

Keep us, O God, from pettiness; let us be larger in thought, in words, in deed.

Let us be done with faultfinding, and leave off selfseeking.

May we put away all pretense and meet each other face to face—without self pity and without prejudice.

May we never be hasty in judgement and always generous.

Let us take time for all things; make us grow calm, serene, gentle.

Teach us to put into action our better impulses, straight-forward and unselfish.

Grant that we may realize it is the little things that create differences, that in the big things we are as one.

And may we strive to touch and to know the great human heart of us all, and, O Lord God, let us forget not to be kind!

THE PRESS—HERE AND IN RUSSIA

The enormous difference between the Russian and the American ideas of government is perfectly illustrated by the recent denunciations of our press by high Soviet officials, and their demand that restrictive measures be taken to stop "unfair" criticism of Russia.

The Soviet spokesmen seem to be all in favor of a "free press"—so long as its comment agrees with their curious ideas of right and wrong. In Russia, the press is "free" to print government-inspired editorials and official handouts from the Politburo, the Foreign Office and the Kremlin. If the slightest deviation from the party line is found in a Russian newspaper, the usual practice is to send the editor in charge on a long voyage from which there is no returning.

The Russians may be perfectly sincere when they say they cannot understand American newspapers. This is one of very few nations left on the face of the earth where any editor, so long as he stays within the laws covering libel and other crimes, can say what he pleases. The Russians seem to think that the growing criticism of Soviet actions in our press is the result of orders from the government. Nothing, as every American knows, could be further from the truth. It is, to the contrary, the simple consequence of the fact that the majority of editors believe that the principles underlying U. S. foreign policy are correct and inevitable.

The free press is the basis of all other freedoms. Destruction of the right to criticize, to speak one's mind, must be followed by the destruction of free government, free enterprise, freedom of religion. The Soviet press is used as a weapon to turn the Russian people into mental robots—and to make every man and woman slavishly think alike and repeat the same phrases. The Russians don't realize it, but their violent denunciations of the American press are a fine tribute to it—and to the system of government which makes its existence possible.

FEBRUARY . . . MONTH OF PATRIOTS

That nation has not lived in vain which has given the world Washington and Lincoln, the best great men and the greatest good men whom history can show.—Henry Cabot Lodge, Lincoln.

LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY

Bedford Democrat

The month of February presents the anniversary of the birth of the greatest presidents of the nation, George Washington, the first president, on the twenty-second, and Abraham Lincoln, on the twelfth.

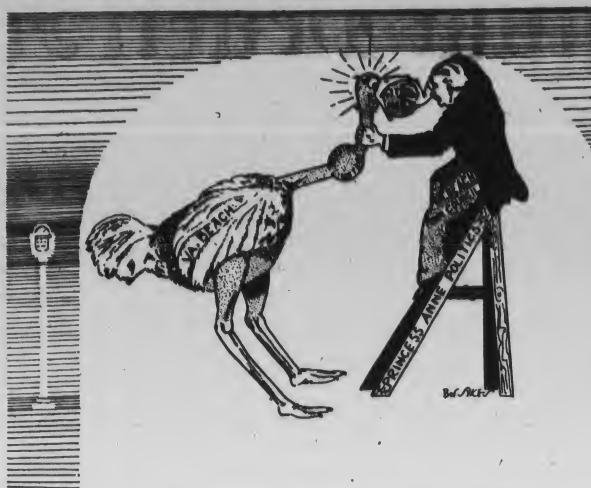

The life and career of President Lincoln has been an inspiration to many Americans, who, despite difficulties, have been encouraged by his great success. In his utterances, as recorded and brought to us, many Americans have gained strength and inspiration.

Coming to the presidency as a result of the division between his opponents, Mr. Lincoln faced the tragedy of a nation divided. He lived to see the surrender of the principal armies of the Confederacy, but six days later, was fatally wounded while witnessing a play at Ford's Theatre in Washington.

The married president was thus unfortunately removed from the presidency before he had an opportunity to exercise his great powers in healing the wounds of the struggle between the North and the South.

That the course of events might have been different had he lived is apparent from the reading of history. He remains the ideal and ideal of millions of Americans and retains his place in the affections of the nation.

WHY NOT REFERENDUM

DISCRIMINATION IN THE ADVERTISING FIELD.

The old saying that you must go away from home to learn the news has been traced down by a Los Angeles advertising manager who has told the World something that it should have known 50 years ago. Advertising agents, he says, tell their clients that there are so many dailies and so many weeklies and that when advertising is placed "it is on a snap-judgement consensus" that represents a distinct handicap to the weekly newspaper seeking to sell National advertising space.

The U. S. Bureau of Census reveals that 30 per cent of the Nation's sales originated in towns of 9,000 or less, where weeklies collaborate and furnish all the news in their territory.

If we stick to our knitting, keep our own economy right side up, explain frankly and fully what we are doing, and act with determination, we can safely leave the hollering to Molotov and Vlahinsky.

GOOD SCOUTING—GOOD CITIZENSHIP

It takes better boys today to build a better world of tomorrow, and boys who are taught to uphold the Scout oath and Scout law will succeed in building better citizens.

The Boy Scout organization is world-wide. It stands for patriotism and friendliness and encourages a respect for other men's beliefs. It teaches tolerance and love and service.

As is well known the Scout assumes this obligation:

"On my honor I will do my best to do my duty to God and my country, and to obey the Scout Law; to help other people at all times; to keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight."

He lives by the Scout Law:—

"A Scout is Trustworthy, Loyal, Helpful, Friendly, Courteous, Kind, Obedient, Cheerful, Thrifty, Brave, Clean, and Reverent."

As a Scout advances he comes to have a clearer understanding that citizenship is not all privilege but that it has responsibilities. In doing his good turn every day he has the opportunity to develop the habit of helping other people at all times.

The ideals of Scouting, reflected by this Scout Oath and Law, have touched the lives of innumerable millions of Americans. Each Scout unit and each individual Scout represents a little circle of influence far reaching in its scope.

To the volunteer leaders who give devoted service to boys all the year around goes an added salute. They are a strength to Scouting and to the Nation. Through their influence greater service is rendered to their town, their state, their country, and to the world.

Good boys of today are our good citizens of tomorrow.

Musical Musings

by Milton Epstein

Quite recently we enjoyed a musical treat of significance. This was a performance by the Feldman Chamber Music Society, which gave its second concert of its revived series; a group of musicians, most of them in their teens, who play with a combination of dignity and spirit that reflects their musical training, and their uninhibited youth.

Notable among the three fine compositions they played was Dvorak's "American Quartet" for two violins, viola and cello, based on Negro melodies heard by Dvorak during his American residence. A gorgeous sonority of tone was achieved, too, in the Brahms Sonata for Viola and Piano, a number that is true Brahms in his deeper mood.

Hector Berlioz (1803-1869) has left us some magnificent symphonic writings. One of the best of these is his "Harold in Italy," which we have recorded by Koussevitzky and the Boston Symphony Orchestra, with William Primrose playing the beautiful viola part and playing it superbly. This is a musical gem, divided into four movements, descriptive of the poet Harold's wanderings in the Italian mountains. The second movement, "March of Pilgrims Singing their Evening Hymn," is based on an old Italian folk melody, and is probably the basic theme which Verdi used for his gorgeous Fingert for Act II of Aida.

Moussorgsky wrote a piano suite called "Pictures at an Exhibition," and Scriabin arranged it for orchestra. Moussorgsky was inspired to write this interesting series of tone pictures by an exhibit of the painter Vladimir Hartman.

The composer thinks of himself walking through the galleries contemplating the works of his friend Hartman, who has just died. He then describes musically the various paintings: The Gnome, The Old Castle, Ballet of the Chickens, Catacombs, Baba-Yaga.

The Garden Club of Virginia will conduct a judging school in Charlottesville, Virginia, at the Monticello Hotel on March 4th-5th.

Mrs. Walter R. Mitchell, a member of the Princess Anne Garden Club, is chairman of publicity for this area, said the judging school had been arranged to prepare club members throughout the State to serve as judges in amateur flower shows. The courses offered must be taken to receive a Garden Club of Virginia Certificate for Judging.

Schedule

From 10:00 A. M. to 12:15 P. M., Thursday, March 4th, Mrs. A. G. Smith, Jr., of V. P. I., will conduct a course in "Design." From 1:30 to 3:30 P. M., "Horticulture" will be the lecture and will be presented by Mrs. Henry M. Kistner, of Glendale, N. Y. Mrs. Mitchell said that "Flower Show Practice" will take place from 4:00 to 5:15 P. M.

On Friday, March 5th, Mrs. Kistner will conduct all courses which will consist in "Color," 10 A. M. to 12:15 P. M.; 1:30 to 3:30 P. M., "Staging A Flower Show," and from 3:00 to 5:00 P. M. examinations will be given.

Mrs. Mitchell said that members of junior garden clubs and non-members of the Garden Club of Virginia are eligible and that a small registration fee would be required of all persons taking the courses. She also advised that hotel reservations be made as early as possible. For further information call Mrs. Walter Mitchell, Cavalier Drive, 1261-E.

County Woman's Club Meets Tuesday

The Princess Anne County Woman's Club will hold its February meeting at the Pine Tree Inn on Tuesday, February 10th, at 11:00 A. M. Mrs. W. O. Beasley, assistant to the chairman of the Book Study Group, announced that the guest speaker at the meeting would be Mrs. H. E. Snyder, of Norfolk, who would speak on "Archaeology and the Bible." Mrs. Snyder is now a member of the board of directors of the State Parents and Teachers and in the past has served as president of the Norfolk Parent-Teacher Association, Norfolk Federation of Missionary Societies, Fortnightly Study Club of Norfolk, and is now a member of the Board of Directors of the YWCA of Norfolk.

Luncheon Meeting

Following the book study group meeting the regular luncheon meeting of the Woman's Club will be held. Mrs. Walter Gresham, chairman of the education department, will have charge of the program and will present Mrs. Grace Harrell, principal of the Bayside School, and Mrs. Hortense Parkerson, a member of the faculty of Bayside School. Mrs. Gresham said that Mrs. Harrell would speak on the work of the health and physical education groups of Princess Anne County and Mrs. Parkerson will review the activities of the art and music study groups of county schools. In preparation for this work Mrs. Gresham further stated that county teachers and principals engaged in a three-day work shop prior to the opening of school in September and five groups were directed to work on school problems. This work has continued throughout the school term with meetings every six weeks. Consultants for the group have been members of the State Department of Education. The speakers to be heard, Mrs. Gresham said, are the chairmen of the respective groups. Art Exhibit.

Mrs. Irving Upson, chairman of the art department of the Woman's Club, will present an exhibit of 26 colorful original paintings done by elementary and junior high school pupils which have been selected to give examples of good and bad work in children's art. Mrs. Upson said the exhibit had been loaned by the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts in Richmond.

Thanks

We should like to take this opportunity to thank our fuel customers for their splendid cooperation and patience during the present critical oil and coal shortage. We know you have tried to economize but the weather has been so severe that it has been constantly necessary to have some heat.

Your attitude during the entire period has been fine even when you were out of fuel and this has helped us no end.

We will continue to divide our allotment of oil and coal as equally as possible until this shortage has abated and ask that you keep close check on your supply and keep us advised, so that we can have about four days notice before your supply is exhausted.

Brazil Nuts Highlight Candy Dish

IT'S the time of year when home-made candies shine as gifts or beckon from the home-bon-dish. Good news then is the ample supply of Brazil nuts ready to add their richness and crunch to favorite candy formulas. Given below are directions for making Brazil nut penaches.

Penache
2 1/2 cups light brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup chopped Brazil nuts
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup chopped Brazil nuts

Combine sugar, salt and milk in saucepan; cook until blended, stirring constantly. Continue boiling without stirring until a small amount forms a soft ball in cold water (234°F.). Add butter; cool to lukewarm (110°F.) add Brazil nuts and beat until mixture thickens. Turn at once into a greased pan (7x7 inches). When cold, cut in squares. YIELD: 16-20 pieces.

Brazil Nut Fudge
2 squares unsweetened chocolate
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup chopped Brazil nuts
1/2 cup chopped Brazil nuts

Combine chocolate, milk and sugar in a heavy frying pan and stir over moderate heat until the sugar dissolves. Lower heat and stir until the sugar melts. Add remaining sugar and Brazil nuts and stir until sugar dissolves. Add butter and baking soda; stir well, and pour onto greased baking sheet. Spread thinly. When hard, break into pieces. YIELD: Approximately 4 dozen.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Do You Have Noisy Neighbors?

A lot of the neighbors were suddenly annoyed by Joe Marsh's hammering at night. Joe was building himself a new front porch—and the only time he could give to it was after sundown.

Finally we decided the best thing to do was all pitch in and help—and get the carpentry over with as soon as possible. We did. Finished the porch next evening—and Joe gratefully greeted us to ice cold beer and cider.

From where I sit, that's what being a good neighbor means. Let stead of complaining about the other fellow's habits, try to understand and share his interests.

So if my practicing on the flute annoys you, come on over, neighbor, with your fiddle or guitar and join me! Maybe it will end up in our knowing and appreciating one another better... In an evening of good fellowship. And I'll promise to provide the beer that goes with evenings of good fellowship!

Joe Marsh

Norman Phelps and The Virginia Rounders... Reading left to right, standing: Earl Hollowell, Willie Phelps, Norman Phelps and Earl Phelps. Kneeling: Chick Hall, T. Howard and Marvin Carroll. To be featured in "Night of Hilarity" February 17, at the Oceana School Auditorium. Also on the list of entertainers are: Earl Edwards and Company, musician; Charlie and Mrs. Byrd, jugglers; James A. Kelly, wizard at the keyboard; Nickie ReDavid, National Champion Paddle Ball novelty; Ray Bykes, Black Face Comedian; "The Wedding of Lili Nell" by the Men's Bible Class. The production is being sponsored by the Men's Bible Class of the Lynnhaven Presbyterian Church.

che. In brief, "Sleep, My Love" is the story of beautiful, wealthy Allison Courtland, played by Claudette Colbert, whose husband ("Don Ameche") is trying to drive her to suicide so that he can marry a charmer named Ophne, played by Hazel Brooks. In cahoots with him is a phoney, money-hungry psychiatrist (George Coulouris) who advises Ameche to hypnotize his wife into thinking she is going crazy.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and Saturday, William Powell, Ella Raines, are seen in "The Senator Was Indecret," also a Technicolor short on Historical Virginia. Powell is seen in this film in the title role of a pompous legislator with presidential ambitions who gets the notion that he is White House timber and sets out to capture the presidential nomination by means of a diary containing political party secrets. He campaigns for his objective in a hilarious speechmaking tour during which he goes on record as against inflation and deflation, but for "flation," and favors a health bill guaranteeing every person a normal temperature. He seems headed for an astonishing success as the film reaches its surprise climax.

AT THE BAYNE THEATRE

At the Bayne the first feature of the week beginning on Friday, February 6th, will be "Two Blondes and a Red Head," starring Jean Porter and Jimmy Lloyd. The screenplay by Victor McLeod and James Brewer has Miss Porter, a society girl who has gone Broadway, return to the stuffy snobbery of her paternal home with two brazen blondes from the chorus. The two blondes manage to snare themselves a pair of millionaires with a potential blackmailer: spills the bones of their show world at the theatre and that spells fins to their fortune hunting.

Oceana Methodist

The following leaders have been named for the worship services of the Intermediate-Senior Fellowship for the month of February: 1st Sunday: Carole Strange; 2nd Sunday: Waverly Duke; 3rd Sunday: Isabel Kell; 4th Sunday: Cordelia Scott.

The following have been appointed pastor's assistants for the month: Earl Rettelbach and Waverly Duke, chancel; Roger Bonney and Edward Wright, literature; Ray Whitehead and Walter Gresham, bulletins; Hal Lackey and Walter Munden, ushers.

The Junior Official Board will have a banquet at the Colony Restaurant on Saturday, February 7th.

Plans are also being made to present the farce, "An Old Maid's Convention," in the Oceana High School the last week in February. The Boy Scout Troop plans to observe National Boy Scout Week by holding a special church service on Sunday morning, February 8th; a father-son supper on Tuesday, February 10th, and to arrange a Scout display in the windows of Frizell's Hardware Store.

LOCAL RESIDENT
PULLS PRACTICAL
JOKE ON OFFICIAL

From The Charlotte (N. C.) News of Monday, January 26, 1946

Several top Government officials, including Assistant Attorney General T. Lamar Caudle, were victims of a hoax here one day last week when they arrived at the Municipal Airport and were met by "Sir Ronald Chastleton, a director of Lloyds of London, internationally known insurance firm."

The officials were en route to Florida and stopped in the city overnight. They included Leo Caddison, public relations chief of the Treasury Dept., and Charles Gilphart, also of the Treasury Dept. Also in the party was Judge James Barnes, former confidential adviser to the late President Roosevelt and now a Washington attorney.

The men drove into the city with the "English Lord" and plied him with questions about life in the British Isles, the food and fuel situation, and how the English nation was recovering from the war. Sir Ronald answered their questions in perfect English accent and not until late last night did he reveal that he was Maj. Paul Forbes, real estate man of Virginia Beach, Va., who was in the city on business.

The Government men left the city this morning and Maj. Forbes left for Florida this afternoon. He was accompanied by Timothy Stearns, vice president of the Textile Bank of New York City; Robert Halliburton, executive vice president of the Carolina Casualty Co.; Chris Baylor, president of the Carolina Casualty Co. They came to the city on a business trip and to confer with W. M. Nicholson, Charlotte attorney, who represents them.

CONVENTIONS

Eight organizations have been booked for conventions at Virginia Beach during 1946, according to a list of conventions announced for the Old Dominion by the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce. It is estimated that more than 50,000 will attend conventions in Virginia; many are national and will bring thousands to Virginia.

Among those of a national character which will come to Virginia Beach will be the National Barrel and Drum Association, the Metal Treating Institute, Potomac States Bankers Association, Southern Paper Trades Association, Tobacco Association of the United States, the Maryland Utilities Association, the North Carolina Building and Loan League, and the Commonwealth Life Insurance Company of Kentucky.

Officials of the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce estimated that conventions yet to be announced will swell the total of convention attendants in Virginia this year to well over 100,000.

COUNTY HIGHWAY
ZONING PLANNED

Richmond, Feb. 4 (Special).—Representatives of the State Highway Department and the State Planning Board hope to visit Princess Anne county officials in the near future to discuss the possible adoption of a protective highway zoning ordinance for the county.

The General Assembly has authorized the adoption of local zoning laws, officials of these State agencies said, and a committee has been established to discuss the urgency of the zoning issue with municipal and county officials.

Protective highway zoning ordinances would require that new buildings be placed well behind proposed rights-of-way, allowing for future development and widening of highways in connection with the State's 20-Year Plan for the modernization of its road system.

Highway engineers estimate that it will require more than $25,000,000 to move homes and other structures in carrying out the 20-Year Plan. This figure will grow by millions of dollars unless zoning laws put a halt to new construction within future highway lines.

Zoning committee officials said that 10 counties, 15 towns, and 14 cities have already adopted ordinances and that others are in preparation.

The pressing need for these ordinances was demonstrated in a recent survey of 73 road construction projects, the committee pointed out. On these jobs, more than $25,000 went for moving homes, filling stations, stores and other buildings.

"In plain terms," the committee asserted, "figures like this mean one of two things. Either the counties must settle for proportionately fewer new and improved highways, or they must resign themselves to doing without necessary highways for a proportionately longer time—unless local officials do something about it."

Not only do highway zoning ordinances cut road-building costs, the committee added, but they have a definite highway safety factor. Nineteen per cent of all highway accidents happen at intersections—many of them at "blind" intersections. With zoning, future construction of "blind" intersections will be avoided.

OZLIN GIVES GOOD
ADVISE ON FENCE
POST CURING

Early cutting and peeling of softwoods destined to serve as fence posts was advised here this week by H. W. Ozlin, county agent, who says that the non-durable woods should be given enough time to air-cure before preservative treatment in the fall.

Soft woods, including sap-pine, which is considered the most convenient all-around species for fencing purposes, should be cut before April, the agent said. The bark should be peeled from the timber soon after it is cut, and the posts stacked loosely off the ground to dry. However, the agent warned that freshly peeled posts stacked in direct sunlight may check or crack and become unsuitable for treatment.

Other recommended species are red, black and scarlet oaks. White oak, hickory and elm also take treatment well, but need a longer soaking period. Posts about four inches in diameter are recommended, except for corners, gates and other places where greater strength is required. Use only the round posts and do all the cutting and boring for braces and gate hinges before treating to avoid exposing untreated wood, the agent advised.

The agent said that there are two recommended methods of treating fence posts on Virginia farms—the hot-cold bath creosote treatment, and the pentachlorophenol treatment. The cost of materials for either method is about 15¢ per post. Treatment of non-durable wood fence posts with a preservative will increase the life of the post at least three to four times, Ozlin said. The extended life, he emphasizes, means lower maintenance costs on the fences and less labor required to replace rotten posts.

Complete directions for treatments are available from the county agent's office.

Power for Pulling

2-Wheel-Drive for the Highway

The Universal "Jeep's" wide speed range on hard roads saves valuable working time and its 4-wheel-drive pulling power for slippery roads and steep grades makes it the ideal farm tow-truck. It gives economical, satisfactory service, whether hauling hay to the next county or taking livestock to market. It's a handy pickup, too—carries 1200 lbs.

4-Wheel-Drive for Field Work

For off-the-road service—in the field or over rough ground—the versatile "Jeep" has traction at every wheel and a choice of six forward speeds to give correct gear ratios for the work at hand. In 4-wheel-drive, the "Jeep" also works as a tractor—helps farmers the year 'round and is ready for virtually any hauling job.

BOY SCOUTS OBSERVE 38th YEAR IN CELEBRATION OVER COUNTRY

The 38th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America will be observed throughout the country from February 6th to 12th, which is Scout Week. The organization, which was incorporated at Washington, D. C. on February 8, 1910, received its Federal charter granted by Congress on June 15, 1916. Scout Sunday will be observed on February 6th, and the theme to be emphasized this year is "The Scout Citizen at Work: in his home, in his community, in his nation, in his world."

More than 2,130,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Senior Scouts and their adult leaders in 68,500 units in every part of the nation will mark this 38th anniversary by launching a major program for the year. W. W. Johnson, local Scout executive said.

In 1948 they are emphasizing conservation of food and natural resources, planting gardens, safety and fire prevention, home repairs and personal health check-up. The Boy Scouts of America will continue through 1948 to help Scout organizations overseas to rebuild. Thus far more than 3,000 tons of equipment have been shipped.

Year's Program

A universal program will be adopted each month calls for special work in:

January: home repairs and food conservation.

February: making equipment for "adopted" troops overseas, participate in World Friendship Fund and start correspondence with overseas Scouts.

March: set out bird houses, plan for home and group gardens.

April: home and community clean-up and beautification and plant gardens.

May: work in gardens and offer aid to local conservation agencies. June: control flies, mosquitoes, other pests and control plants harmful to man, work in gardens, and build nature trails.

July and August: water safety demonstrations, restoration of historical trails and markers, work in gardens and store food raised.

September: safety check-up and demonstrations, highway safety campaigns.

October: service to other organizations and institutions and historical pilgrimages of 1947. November: visit with the children's homes, service to hospitals and veterans' homes, set out bird feeders.

December: unity for pharmacy service, work in first aid and ice skating, set out bird feeders.

February 6th, the 38th anniversary of the original incorporation of the movement in Washington, D. C., will be marked in countless churches of all denominations as Boy Scout Sunday. Scouts and leaders will attend church services in uniform. Those of Jewish faith will hold their observations in synagogues and temples on Friday evening, February 6th and Saturday, February 7th. Many sermons, addressed to the Scouts, will touch on some aspect of the birth-day theme.

Cooke School P. T. A. Holds Meeting Celebrating Donation of New Curtain

The new curtain for the stage of the W. T. Cooke School will be hung in the auditorium within the next few days. In making the announcement at the PTA meeting on Monday, Mrs. Selden Grandy and Mrs. David Pender, Jr., curtain committee, said that Cofer's in Norfolk had given the lowest price for the curtain, which will be made of a heavy blue-green velvet and will cost $939.74. This price includes hanging the curtain.

Miss Mary Kellam, principal, speaking for Mrs. Les Shelly, the chairman of the committee on securing a fence for the playground, said that the Princess Anne School Board had assured her of their cooperation and immediately placed an order for the fence which would be erected immediately upon delivery. Miss Kellam also stated that the Virginia Beach police were assisting by eliminating all traffic by the school during the recess hours.

School Bus Behavior

Miss Kellam requested more cooperation from parents in an endeavor to correct misconduct of children using the school bus. She stressed the willingness of the Norfolk Southern Bus Corporation in supplying the bus when requested by patrons of the school and voiced the criticism of behavior of children using the bus as reported by drivers of the school bus.

Additional Rooms

Mrs. Oliver Brown, heading a group of patrons of the school consisting of Mrs. Les Shelly, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Holmes, Mrs. Taylor approached the school board with the request of four additional rooms for the school. Mrs. Brown stated that the move was made by parents and not by the PTA. However, the PTA endorsed the action and moved that written endorsement be sent to the board.

Mrs. L. W. Meachum, president, appointed the following nominating committee to report at the next meeting: Mrs. W. C. Pennington, Miss Mary Kellam and Mrs. Les Shelly. She also announced the March meeting as Father's Night, at which time Miss Lucy Mason Holt, principal of the Ocean View School, will be the guest speaker. Miss Mull's Glee Club will render musical selections.

Mrs. Holmes Presents Program

In commemoration of the founders of the Parent-Teacher Association, Mrs. Aubrey Holmes, program chairman, presented brief biographical sketches of Alice McClanahan Burney and Phoebe Apperson Hurst, founders of the National Congress of Mothers, out of which has grown the National Congress of Parents and Teachers and the individual parent-teacher associations.

Williams to be Speaker

Announcement was also made that on Tuesday, February 17th, at 8 P. M., in the auditorium, the County Education Association will present Robert F. Williams, secretary of the Virginia Education Association, who planned and introduced special legislation relative to the educational program of the State. Mrs. Meachum announced that patrons and friends were invited to attend.

Before the business meeting of the PTA several plays were presented by children of the Fourth Grade.

Fashion Show In Offing on 'Night of Hilarity' Program

The program for the Night of Hilarity, planned to aid the building fund of the Lynnhaven Presbyterian Church has been completed and Beverly Sykes, chairman says will offer an evening's entertainment well worth seeing. He said the high light of the performance will be presented by members of the men's Bible Class in the nature of the "Wedding of Lil Nell". The Rev. Burke Kerr will be the bride; Rev. Sykes the groom; J. C. Van Horn, hero and W. R. Payne, Sr., preacher. Jack Coker, Henry Hunt, Sanford Moore, James Garrington are among the cast with Traflet Robertson acting as Master of Ceremonies.

Other Entertainment

Mr. Sykes said that other entertainers will be Nickie DeDavid National Paddleball champion; Calle Duque, International Yo-Yo expert; Earl Edwards, past president of local Amateur Magicians Club and his company of performers; Graham Dalton in a Rubic Act; Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Byrd in a singing act and "Roy Sykes, outstanding comedian of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Music for the entire evening will be furnished by Mr. James A. Kelley.

Curtain time for the show has been set at 8 p.m. on February 17 in the Oceana School auditorium.

Mrs. Alice Brewer White, Woman's Director of WTAR will also participate in the program.

A fashion show of the latest spring models furnished by Tailored Togs of Virginia Beach and modeled by local young ladies will be Mrs. White's feature of the program.

The Civic Forum organized last fall for the purpose of studying problems relative to government and encouraging an encouraging an informed public on civic and governmental matters, invites all persons interested to attend the meeting. J. Burke Withers, president, in issuing the invitations said that the Forum is not a secret organization. In the fall it encouraged citizens to pay poll taxes in order to vote in the next election. He said now, Mr. Withers said is to see that all would-be voters are properly registered and informed on matters pertaining to local, state and federal government.

Trading Post To Be Opened Here

Antiques, fancy work articles, gifts and "white elephants" will be handled at "The Trading Post" soon to be open at 210 - 21st St. Katherine B. Wood, Mary T. Forsberg and Genevieve G. Jordan are going to operate the novel shop at the location formerly occupied by the Princess Inn Florist.

Mrs. Wood, spokeswoman for the group, said that everything will be handled on consignment and "white elephants" as well as other things will be found on the shelves and tables. The opening date will be announced next week and a cordial invitation will be extended to all residents of the community.

Woman's Club to Meet February 24

The February meeting of the Princess Anne Woman's Club, which was postponed from last Tuesday, will be held at the Pine Tree on Tuesday, February 24. Mrs. Aubrey Holmes, chairman of publicity said that the program for the regular meeting will be as planned but the book study will be dispensed with.

Beach Digs Out After Heaviest Snow In Many Years; Average 10 inch Fall

Business and transportation were paralyzed at Virginia Beach Tuesday when a heavy snowfall, estimated at 11 inches, blanketed the entire Eastern Seaboard starting about 5 p.m. Monday.

With a Northeast wind blowing about 24 miles per hour, high drifts were banked against garage doors, parked automobiles and in places along the highway, halting all transportation. Sub-freezing temperature added to the general discomfort.

Roads in the County were partially cleared by members of the County Highway Department who worked steadily around the clock in an endeavor to clear at least a single lane for emergency traffic. Reports reaching the News office said members of this force did an excellent job to relieve the critical situation.

It is estimated that the current storm was more severe than the 1936 snow fall and in some sections exceeded the 1927 storm.

Members of the Virginia Beach Police and Fire departments, including volunteers remained on alert duty in case of emergency.

W. W. Stroud, local manager of the C & P Telephone Company reported 100 percent of his force on duty Tuesday and expressed gratitude to citizens of the community for their cooperation in limiting calls and keeping the lines open for emergencies. He stated the load was extremely heavy but co-operation facilitated handling all service with minimum inconvenience. The V.E.P. maintained its service and kept a crew in readiness for any emergency.

Stores and schools closed for two days but by Thursday a rain and warmer weather made automobile travel possible and business swung back to almost normal for those who did not mind the lull.

Mrs. Holmes Says March of Dimes Results Are Good

The March of Dimes in Princess Anne County has netted approximately $3,000. Mrs. Aubrey Holmes said that full reports from outlying districts had not been completed but on the whole the committee in charge was well pleased with the results.

Mrs. Wallace Clark, chairman of the boxes said the proceeds from this source exceeded the amount of last year.

Toward the end of the drive, boxes were placed on parking meters in the Town and netted $571.

Mrs. Carroll Clough chairman of Chesapeake reported an amount double the sum raised last year in the same district.

A group of young people in the Croods district gave a Hill Billy Jamboree and turned over the entire proceeds to the drive.

The Colored Woman's Club of Princess Anne County gave a dance at the Town Club and turned over the proceeds to Mrs. Kyle chairman. Other solicitation among the colored people of the County netted a total of $90 to the drive.

Mrs. Aubrey Holmes, general chairman, wishes to express sincere appreciation to all workers who gave so generously of time and efforts to make the 1948 March of Dimes a success.

South Beach Civic League Meets 16th

The Civic League of South Virginia Beach will hold the regular February meeting Monday evening at 8 p.m. in the W. T. Cooke School auditorium. C. H. Driskill president requests a full attendance at this meeting.

OLD USO BUILDING NOW TO BE CALLED COMMUNITY HOUSE

The USO building on Arctic Avenue, recently purchased by the Town of Virginia Beach, will henceforth be known as the "Community House." W. E. MacDonald, chairman of the committee appointed by the town council for the purpose of working out a youth program, made the announcement Wednesday, after a meeting of the committee on Monday evening.

Members of this committee are: MacDonald, Mrs. James Kontopoulos and W. W. Stroud, who will also serve as a Board of Directors, and be the contact for other committees appointed at the Monday meeting.

Frank Shean will head the House Committee, which will decide the policies and use of the building. He will be assisted by Ken Jard and Miss Margaret Fantone. MacDonald said that all publicity would come from the office of Al Mailhes, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

The Virginia Beach Library is being moved to the building and will be under the supervision of Mrs. Johns, and a committee to be appointed by her.

Finance Committee

Mr. MacDonald said a treasurer would be appointed from the board of directors but the budget committee would be headed by R. M. Church, R. A. Jones and one other to be appointed. He also said that the organization would assume its own financial responsibility and maintain a separate bank account, and that it was planned to let the bath houses and snack bar out on a rental basis in an endeavor to bring in revenue from these sources.

The Barber Theatre has been asked to present plays during the summer season.

It is also planned to rent office and room space to the Red Cross if agreeable to that organization, Mr. MacDonald said. The Red Cross committee will be headed by H. W. Chaffee, Miss Pearl Duty and R. L. Simpson.

A resident manager will be employed and it is expected this will be the only paid executive for the building.

Youth Committee

An athletic and youth committee will function under the chairmanship of Jerry Trout, assisted by Mel Goode and Bubba Bayne.

MacDonald stated that the playground and teen age program will set up its own organization and will work in with all playground activities. The final committee announced by Mr. MacDonald will be the church advisory committee, on which all ministers of the community will be asked to serve.

Full Committee Meeting

There will be a meeting of all committees connected with the new organization on Monday at 7:30 P. M. in the Community House. MacDonald said that the use of the building could be secured upon application in writing to Community House, Virginia Beach, Virginia. The Girl Scouts have signed up for regular meetings every Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, and it is hoped that other youth organizations will avail themselves of the privileges offered.

The board of directors is planning to make the building self-sustaining if possible and Mr. MacDonald says that with the full cooperation of all citizens of the community the building can be a source of having as many parents and scouts present as possible.

ON STUDYING POLITICS

(from The Tidewater News)

Time was when Robert Louis Stevenson could write, possibly with tongue in cheek, that "politics is the only profession for which no preparation is thought necessary." In a primitive society, as among pastoral tribes, such a statement could well have been true. But in today's confused and confusing world it is the duty of every responsible person so to familiarize himself with the nature of politics and of politicians as to be able to vote for the best interests of the community, the state, and of the nation.

All too often it is a fact that the average citizen, concerned primarily with such commonplace matters as earning a livelihood, providing for the family, educating the children, and paying off the mortgage on the old homestead, displays a meagre interest in politics. His time is too much taken up by the struggle for existence to bother himself with something that is not absolutely urgent and indispensable. He is a Democrat or a Republican, a Socialist or a Communist according to his antecedents rather than to his personal convictions. Of him it may be said, after William S. Gilbert, the playwright:

"He always voted at his party's call. And he never thought of thinking for himself at all."

Politics is or are, as the case may be, a science. As such it requires a careful study, if its basic principles are to be thoroughly understood. Dealing with the organization, regulation, and administration of a state, in both its internal and external affairs, politics presents a field of investigation the importance of which cannot be overestimated. Whether one is ambitious to participate in the control of city or state, or whether one is merely desirous of being a useful member of society, one should be well informed concerning the government under which one lives. An electorate versed in the intricacies of politics makes for sensible legislation and for the conscientious execution of the law.

As incredible as it may seem, the age of virtuous politics is not wisely in the past; nor is the race of honest politicians wholly extinct. This is indeed remarkable when we consider that the number of people who actually study our government and its several departments is distressingly small. The unwillingness or the inability of the general public to take an active interest in politics, except when they march to the polls on election day, is largely responsible for the dishonesty which sometimes does occur among those holding positions of influence and authority. Unscrupulous seekers after office fare best when the voters are kept in ignorance of their disqualifications for service. More power to those who wish to hasten the day when it can no longer be said of the masses:

"Politics we bar,
They are not our lent;
On the whole we are
Not intelligent."

SHORTAGE IN OIL

by J. E. Jones

Many parts of the country, including the Capital City of the United States, are in trouble because of a shortage of gasoline and fuel oil. A short run of that kind shouldn't be considered as serious.

During the war-rationing period all automobile owners experienced difficulty in getting enough gasoline for moderately short trips.

This correspondent believes the so-called shortage of motor fuel is not serious. So why worry!

"BLACK HORSES" ARE TOO SLOW

by J. E. Jones

Senator Harold E. Stassen kicks up a lot of rows. But in the opinion of Capitol Hill, Mr. Stassen cannot be regarded as even a "black horse" candidate for the Republican nomination.

Then there is Mr. Wallace, whom we can classify as the man who cuts no figure because there is no probability that he will get a heavy vote from any source. He is constantly losing ground.

The real Republican race for the Presidential nomination stands at the present time at about 50-50 between Taft and Dewey—and either one of those men will be satisfactory to the Republican voters.

President Truman seems to be about the only logical candidate for the Democrats to nominate, even though his popularity seems to be slipping. About the only certainty at the present time seems to be that the Republican Party will win next November.

THE ST. LAWRENCE SEAWAY

The St. Lawrence Seaway has been a responsibility of the United States and Canada for forty years. The measure before Congress is receiving enough support to win.

The entire press of the Great Lakes country believes that it is high time that America's greatest natural inland waterway should be employed in hauling its tonnage across the United States and to all parts of the Europe.

GOVERNMENT HOUSING PROGRAMS

Ever since the close of the war the National Administration at Washington has been doing its level best to speed up long-range Government housing programs. That seems to be a fine intention. It is stimulating building towns and cities—but, at prices that have never been heard of before in the history of our country.

Isn't it a fact that what this country needs most is one-story bungalow homes outside the borders of thickly populated cities? Think that over.

A GOOD JOB — WELL DONE

Although Virginia Beach was not equipped to handle the snow which descended Monday night and paralyzed all traffic in and out of the Town, the street cleaning department deserves a great deal of credit for the way in which they handled a difficult situation. Men working around the clock with trucks and road scraping equipment cleared away emergency lanes on main streets of the Town and later opened all main thoroughfares.

The speed and efficiency with which the situation was handled with a minimum of inconvenience to local business and residents deserves special commendation.

TAX REDUCTION

It is certain that tax reduction will receive the okay of Congress. Republicans in Congress talk of a goal for reduction in the President's budget ranging from $3 million to $5 million.

HAVE WE REACHED A NEW LEVEL?

In the judgment of some of the best authorities in the National Capital the production of most things has reached practical ceilings. This is interpreted to mean that pay increases now are not essential because the net effect is that price tags are marked up. At the same time the National rate of production has been speeded in the last year and the price levels are not apt to be increased very much this winter.

ANOTHER SNOW STORM

Richmond (Special)—Another snow storm hit Virginia and the State Highway Department emphasized that it is "absolutely impossible" for State equipment to clear snow from private entrances.

With more than 240,000 private entrances opening on State roads, maintenance engineers estimated that 250,000 man-hours would be required to clear away snow and pile up by the plows.

Three thousand men, using 1,500 pieces of equipment, have been engaged in the struggle with the snow, the Department said. It would require an estimated 30,000 to open the private driveways.

If the private ways were opened, officials pointed out, it would be necessary to neglect the through highways.

"As much as we dislike blocking off a family's entrance-way," one official explained, "there is little else that we can do. If we used our limited equipment and manpower to open the driveways, the roads could not be cleared."

In times of "emergency," it is essential that Virginians understand the problem and "help out as much as possible," this official added.

Musical Musings

by Milton Epstein

We played a varied program for some friends the other night, starting with Arnold Schoenberg's Verklarte Nacht ("Transfigured Night") in the free translation, but to my mind Beethoven is the word that should supplement Transfigured. This was written for String Quartet and has been arranged for String Orchestra. It has since been recorded by full Orchestra, but we think this a bit too much music for the very fragile and delicate picture the composer is painting for us in this story of a man and woman who confess their love, her unfaithfulness, and his forgiveness; the warmth that envelops them, the light of the moon that covers the universe, and that will warm their need for each other, gentle piece of music, exquisitely interpreted by Eugene Ormandy and the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra. Igor Stravinsky's Fire Bird Suite, which we played next, is music written in a quite different mood. This is recorded by Stokowski and the Philadelphia Orchestra. It is a musical story of a young Prince who captures the Magic Fire Bird, but is so touched by its pleadings that he releases the Bird, keeping only one magic feather. With this he confounds the cruel magician King Katschel and releases all of his prisoners, thereby gaining for himself the beautiful young princess, who is a part of the mise en scene; a conventional Fairy Tale, told however, in a magical way that is exciting, stirring, and superb music. We next heard the Violin Concerto No. 1 in G Minor by Max Bruch, recorded by Menuhin and the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra under Pierre Monteux. This gentle and heart warming concerto is written in the usual three movements. Menuhin brings out the luscious tones we expect from his violin and makes a song out of the romantic second movement. It is played by both soloist and orchestra with great depth of understanding.

Our evening concluded with the playing of Beethoven's melodious Concerto for piano and orchestra, No. 3 in C Minor. This is recorded by Jose Iturbi who plays the piano and conducts the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra, a feat of musicianship and, in this instance, done quite well. The cover of our album shows a man walking through a suburb with a poodle dog. Such is the picture it evokes, calm and reflective and completely beautiful. The second movement has a theme which must have run through Gounod's brain when he wrote the famous "Ballet D'Amore" in the second act of Faust. The last movement is a lively return home, and a brisk finish to a happy, sort of, and a pleasant musical evening.

PRINCESS GARDEN CLUB TAKES OVER CARE OF LAWSON

The supervision of the Lake Lawson Wild Flower Preserve will now rest entirely in the hands of the Princess Anne Garden Club, Miss Evelyn Collins Hill, chairman of Conservation, announced at the regular meeting of the club on Monday. Heretofore, Miss Hill said, the Norfolk Garden Club has assisted in this work.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Roy Smith, with Miss Elizabeth Gregory Hill, president, presiding.

Miss Hill announced the dates for the annual rose show to be May 11th and 12th, to take place in the Panoramia Room of the Cavalier Beach Club. Other announcements were made by Mrs. Walter Mitchell, who reminded members of the School of Judges being held in Charlottesville on March 4th-5th, and the annual Garden Club of Virginia State Narcissus Show to be held in Danville, Virginia, April 3rd and 4th. Miss Hill also announced the official dates of the Garden Club of Virginia meeting as May 18th and 20th in Danville, Virginia, with the Leesburg, Fauquier and Loudoun Garden Clubs as co-hostesses with the Gabriella Garden Club of Danville.

Arbor Day is March 12th and Miss Hill asked all club members to plant a tree in some location and announced that the club will plant a tree in the wild flower preserve.

E. C. Gifford, landscape architect of Winn Nurseries, spoke on "What part landscape architecture can play in planning and planting home gardens." He illustrated his lecture with designs of large, small and medium gardens drawn to scale and stressed most desirable and suitable shrubs, trees and greens to use. He also exhibited 25 varieties of rare blooming azaleas and evergreen shrubs.

Mrs. J. C. Monford, bird chairman, asked all members to place food and water outside for birds. Before adjournment, the club stood in silent tribute to Mrs. Laura Wheelwright, former president of the Garden Club of Virginia, whose death occurred last week at her home near Richmond. Tea was served by Mrs. Smith at the conclusion of the meeting.

MELISSA HILLIARD, WYNN WHIDDEN MARRIED IN GALILEE CHURCH SAT.

The marriage of Miss Melissa Gorham Hilliard, daughter of Mrs. Landon Hilliard, of Virginia Beach, to Lieut. Wynn Victor Whidden, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Whidden, of Ocala, Fla., took place Saturday night in Galilee Episcopal Church at 8:30 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles Carman, rector of the church in the presence of relatives and friends. The church was arranged with palms, evergreens, white snapdragons and lighted candles and Mrs. George Aldridge played the wedding music.

The bride entered with her brother, Landon Hilliard, Jr., by whom she was given in marriage. She wore a wedding gown of white satin, fashioned with fitted bodice off-the-shoulder neckline outlined with rose point lace, and long fitted sleeves. The full skirt was shirred at the hipline and formed a long train. Her veil was of imported illusion edged with rose point lace, and she carried a spray of white orchids.

Mrs. Omer John Donahoe, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a gown of white marquisette, made with fitted bodice, off-the-shoulder neckline and a full draped skirt. She carried a bouquet of white calla lilies centered with red carnations. The bridesmaids were Miss Mary Catlin Lee, Miss Martha Sumner Woodhouse, Miss Juliet McClure Nutt and Mrs. Vivian Burnett Hodgson, Jr. Miss Mary Page Hilliard, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. They wore dresses of white marquisette, made like that of the matron of honor, and carried bouquets of red carnations with arrangements of the same flowers in their hair. The junior bridesmaid carried a nosegay of red carnations.

William K. Whidden, Jr., of Ocala, Fla., was his brother's best man. The groomsmen were Lt. William Flanagan, Lt. John Peterson, Lt. Joseph Campbell, Lt. Omer John Donahoe and Lt. Mack C. Mason, all of the USN.

The bride's mother wore a dress of blue crepe trimmed in gold and a corsage of orchids. The mother of the bridegroom wore a dress of white crepe trimmed in gold and a corsage of orchids.

There was a reception at the Princess Anne Country Club. Later Lt. and Mrs. Whidden left for a Southern motor trip and upon their return will reside at Virginia Beach. The bride wore for traveling a light blue gabardine suit, brown accessories and a corsage of white orchids.

The guests from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Whidden, W. K. Whidden, Jr. of Ocala, Fla.; Lt. Comdr. Fred Johnston of Newport, R. I. and Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Hamilton of Petersburg.

A little co-operation goes a long, long way

The distance is always a little shorter when good neighbors work together. Telephone service is better, too, when party-line neighbors co-operate.

Co-operation on the party line means:

- Keeping calls reasonably brief;
- Allowing an interval between calls, whenever possible;
- Answering the telephone as promptly as you can;
- Not interrupting when the line is in use, except in an emergency;
- Teaching the children to follow these suggestions, too.

By continuing to be a good neighbor to the other families on your line, you'll help them and help yourself to better telephone service.

Service News

Mr. Thomas D. Odum, Area Director, Division of War Veterans Affairs, 218 Jones Bldg., Suffolk, Va., has been named Veterans Reemployment Rights Commissioner for Princess Anne County, according to an announcement made today by Hugh W. Bradley, Field Representative, Veterans Reemployment Rights Division, United States Department of Labor. Mr. Odum has received his certificate of appointment and is now prepared to aid veterans in obtaining reemployment and seniority rights to which they are entitled under the Selective Service Act.

Mr. Odum will serve voluntarily in giving advice and assistance to veterans who feel that they have reemployment problems involving restoration in their old jobs or seniority and accrued benefits on the job and to those who have been laid off or discharged without cause before completing one year of employment to which they are entitled.

"Every effort will be made to adjust all cases amicably," Mr. Bradley said. "This is in keeping with the policy declared by Secretary of Labor Schwelmbach and Robert K. Sawyer, Director of the Department's Veterans' Reemployment Rights Division. Litigation will be resorted to only when there appears to be a violation of the veteran's rights which cannot be resolved otherwise. It is believed, however, that such cases will be rare."

As Others See It

Violations of the safe-driving rule, "cross only at corners," accounted for half of all pedestrian deaths in 1946, while of the drivers involved in these accidents, one-fourth were reported violating traffic regulations, according to John B. Dey, vice president of the Tidewater Automobile Association, in announcing distribution of the "Cross Only At Corners" posters and Traffic Safety Teaching Units for use this month in schools in Tidewater Virginia.

"In 1946, approximately 34 per cent (an increase of 2 per cent over 1945) of the pedestrians in the 5-14 age group involved in traffic accidents were injured or killed while crossing between intersections," Mr. Dey said. "Concentrated effort has been put forth, through safety education programs, to instill safe-walking habits in the pedestrian. However, there is still much to be desired in the way of reducing fatalities caused by pedestrian violation of safety rules."

"Schools everywhere are intensifying their efforts toward this goal by the correlation of safety instruction with all other subjects; in order to aid them in attaining this objective, traffic safety posters, designed by the students themselves, and teaching units, written by experienced teachers, are made available to them each month by the Tidewater Automobile Association," added Mr. Dey.

"The 'Cross Only At Corners' poster, one of the ten first-place winners of the 1947 National AAA Traffic Safety Poster Contest, was submitted by Ed Kluban, East

Highways in County

Richmond (Special) — The necessity for increased maintenance on the primary highways of Princess Anne County was reflected this week in a State Highway Department news release which compared travel figures in the county for the past two fiscal years.

During the fiscal year 1946-47, vehicle miles of travel on the rural primary system of the county totaled 260,884 for any given 24-hour period. In fiscal 1945-46, the total was 176,150 miles.

During the same period, the Statewide average for all counties jumped from 86,481 to 103,609 vehicle miles per 24-hour period.

In many cases, according to the Technical High School, Cleveland, Ohio. This poster is being distributed to over 150,000 schools which will emphasize the safe-walking rule, "Cross Only At Corners," in their safety education activities during the month of January.

highway engineers, this increasing travel has emphasized the need for new construction on highways which these engineers have already termed "obsolete and inadequate."

Not only does heavier traffic stress the need for modern design—with flatter grades, easier curves and wider pavements—but it increases maintenance costs proportionately, engineers pointed out. Careful estimates have disclosed that it will take more than one half billion dollars to bring the State's 2,600-mile primary highway system to adequate standards.

In the face of this growing need for heavier maintenance and more expensive construction, State highway officials point out that road costs have increased more than 50 per cent since prewar days. Revenues are up only 25 per cent.

Will's Proud of His Big Ears

Will Dudley's mighty proud of his big ears! Best crop of corn he's grown since '38. And Will, like so many other farmers, has plenty of reason to be proud of what he raises.

The farmer has always been a keystone in our economic life, and the key to our national well-being. But from where I sit, he's more important now than ever. He's not only feeding America—but friends of America overseas—building good will for this country at a time when friendship for democracy is most important.

And farmers have willingly shouldered that responsibility. Will spends extra hours in his cornfield... comes home tired to a temperate glass of beer and early bed, to be ready for the next day's work.

From where I sit, America can be mighty grateful for her five million farmers... for their productivity, hard work, and temperate living—of which Will's moderate glass of beer is proof!

OZLIN SPEAKS FOR CORN GROWERS

Members of the Corn Growers Association organized in Princess Anne County some months ago, have been invited to participate in a corn growing contest, H. W. Ozlin, county agent said. Substantial prizes will be awarded winners in the production of highest yield of corn per acre.

Mr. Ozlin stated that a goal of 100 members was the aim of the association and 100 per cent participation was desired. Stipulations for the contest, as explained by Ozlin, were that the three acres on which the corn must be grown should be measured by two disinterested neighbors and stakes placed at the four corners to designate entries. Buyers weights will be accepted if the crop is sold at the time of harvest. If the corn is not sold at time of harvest, at least 25 per cent of the rows must be weighed on approved scales by two disinterested neighbors.

Ozlin said that only bona fide Princess Anne County farmers are

CIVIC FORUM HEARS DISCUSSION ON PENDING LEGISLATIVE BILLS

The Civic Forum of Virginia Beach held an open meeting on Tuesday evening for the purpose of discussing the two bills in the General Assembly of Virginia which would affect town legislation.

Approximately 200 citizens attended the meeting in the Princess Anne Hotel, the majority of which voiced a protest of the bills which would authorize the appointment of a town manager by council members and other would permit the appointment of a registrar on March 1.

Both bills were fully explained by W. P. Dixon, attorney, with the idea that a clear understanding of this legislature would enable an intelligent vote cast when elections come up on June 8.

A motion was made and seconded that the Forum go on record asking the Town Council to rescind its action on the two pending bills. However, it was pointed out that they had proceeded too far in the committees of the State Legislature for such action.

The meeting ended on the original open forum basis with questions and answers being heard from the floor.

Exhibit of Local Watercolors Feb 24

Water colors done by Mrs. Winifred Nelson Greene will be exhibited at her home, Winwood, on 44th Street extended, Wednesday, February 24 from 4 to 6 p.m. and 8 and 10 a.m. These paintings are a "One-Man" show which will be exhibited early in March at the University of Maine.

At the request of friends, Mrs. Greene said, the pre-view is being given. A member of the Art Corps of the Museum of Art in Norfolk, Mrs. Greene is a nationally known designer of wall paper and patterns for chintz and drapery fabrics, doing designing for large manufacturers in New York.

Boy Scout Family Night Crowd Fills Community House

The Family Night Program for the Princess Anne District, Boy Scouts of America, was held on Thursday in the Community House with a large assembly of Scouts, Scouters, and their families. Activities were held for the boys and their parents.

Advancement awards were presented to boys earning them. Those receiving awards for Second Class were: Troop 60: Charles R. Mitchell, Joe Houghire and Robert Derring; Troop 61: Dan Holapple; Troop 62: David R. Lackey, Ray Whitehead, Stewart Chaplain, Richmond Dean, Earl Rietelback and Walter Graham; Troop 63: Sykes B. Gates; Troop 64: Sammy Judge.

Those receiving First Class Awards were: Troop 60: Ronnie Jenkins, Charles Grundy, William Hinson, Eugene Farrar, Wiley Harrell and Louis Kichen; Troop 61: Arthur Davis and Joe Cherry; Troop 62: Johnny Newcome.

Those receiving the rank of Star were: Troop 61: Paul W. Cherry; Troop 65: Edward T. Wright.

Those receiving the rank of Life were: Troop 60: Billy Jenkins, Alfred Smith and Edward Maciver. There was one rank awarded that is two steps above Eagle and this was the rank of Eagle Gold Palm awarded to Tommy Currie of Troop 60.

The Merit Badges awarded were as follows: Troop 60: Tommy Currie, 12; Billy Hinson, 2; Billy Jenkins, 8; Edward Maciver, 3; Alfred Smith, 14; Troop 61: William Burrell, 6; Paul Cherry, 3; Arthur Davis, 5; David Pidgeon, 3; Jack Wroton, 6; Fielding Tyler, 5; Troop 62: Edward Wright, 2; Merritt Holloman, 1; McCarty Holloman, 1.

The highlight of the program was the awarding of the District Flag.

In the absence of Bob Simpson, due to illness, DeKoven King made the presentation to Troop 60. This was the outstanding Troop in Princess Anne County for 1947.

This flag will be awarded again next year and the troop winning it three years in a row will keep the flag.

Mr. Simpson bought and presented the flag to the district.

After the program, the District Committee served coffee and lemonade and the patrols brought pot luck suppers.

Mr. Hugh Lynn Cayce and his committee were responsible for arranging the program.

Former Resident Honored in Duluth

Miss Betty Lou Jones, formerly of Virginia Beach, has recently been named Duchess of the Duchy of Duluth.

Miss Jones is the niece of Mrs. Alma Purford of Virginia Beach. She lived at the Beach for several years and attended Oceana High School.

As Duchess, Miss Jones was crowned by Dr. W. A. Coventry, first Duke of Duchy.

Lynnhaven Church Show Successful

A crowd which packed the auditorium of the Oceana High School Tuesday evening witnessed the presentation of a "Night of Illustrious" by the Men's Bible Class of the Lynnhaven Presbyterian Church.

The performance was given for the benefit of the Sunday school building fund, and talent from Norfolk and Princess Anne participated.

Traiton Robertson was master of ceremonies, assisted by Alice Brewster, White, director of the Woman's World of WTAR, who presented local models in a miniature fashion show modeling latest Spring frocks from Tailored Togs, Virginia Beach.

Specialty acts were presented by feature artists in music and magic and a comedy skit of the "Marriage of Figaro" was staged by members of the Bible Class, who were cast in the leading roles.

The affair was under the sponsorship of the church.

South Beach Civic League Backs Building Codes

A resolution requesting a thorough check of all building in process at the South end of Virginia Beach was the highlight of the regular meeting of the Civic League of the South Beach Monday evening.

Following the discussion at a council meeting several months ago when the point was made that buildings were being erected on 25 foot lots in the South Beach section and not up to a certain standard, resolutions were passed at the meeting of council that lot sizes be limited to 30 feet and building restrictions be upheld.

At the meeting Monday Frank Klepper proposed the following resolution: Be it resolved that: "Town Engineer check plans with deed restrictions before issuing building permits, and that engineer inspect building while being constructed to see that it complies with the plans as filed and also with building codes at Virginia Beach."

Other routine business was the appointment of Mrs. Lyle Hill and Lewis Dickens to represent the league at the March meeting of Town Council and Mrs. James Clifton and Mrs. John Belmer to attend the meeting of the Zoning Board February 24 when the question of building lots and restrictions will be voted on.

The league unanimously voted to support the forthcoming Red Cross drive in any way possible to make it a success.

Norfolk Southern Bus Corp. Holds Safety Banquet

Two safety meetings were held by the Norfolk Southern Bus Corporation Wednesday at the Pine Tree Inn. Luncheon was served at 12:30 P. M. and dinner at 7 P. M.

It is the annual custom of the corporation to present safety driving awards and pins to drivers of the company earning them and this ceremony took place at the two meetings which were presided over by C. H. Nelson, Director of Personnel and Safety.

Guest speaker at both meetings was William Standish, safety engineer with the United States Fidelity & Guaranty. Other speakers at both meetings were C. M. Bell, executive assistant to the president of Norfolk Southern, and E. M. Fletcher, vice president and general manager of the corporation.

Officials of the company in attendance at one or both meetings, besides the guests of honor, were: John U. Addenbrook, assistant general manager; F. S. Cunningham, superintendent motor freight service; H. E. Pool, agent at Virginia Beach; Judson Kay, purchasing agent, and W. E. Wilson, superintendent maintenance.

Awards, consisting of safety checks and safety driving award pins, were presented by C. H. Nelson to the drivers at both meetings, who stated that approximately 3,500,000 miles had been operated between August 1946 and August 1947 with a decided decrease in accident frequency of 234 over the previous report of 279.

Mr. Nelson said that a safety meeting and banquet will be held next month in Edenton, N. C., for the drivers of the Carolina Division of the company.

Council To Meet

Bids on the construction of the proposed jetty on the water front will be opened at a special meeting of the town council on Saturday morning at 11 o'clock.

At the request of council members Mayor Leake said the meeting has been called for the purpose and also to pass on second reading the authorization for the purchase of the USO building for use as a Youth Center and Community House.

War Buildings to Be Sold as Surplus At Fort Story

Fort Story, one of the most important bases for the defense of Chesapeake Bay and Hampton Roads during two world wars, is once more undergoing the process of a partial dismantling.

Between World War One and World War Two it lay sleeping and to most people passing by it was a short section of rough concrete roadway at Cape Henry passing through sand dunes and pines with a glimpse of a giant 16-inch howitzer in a small clearing off the highway. As a fort it was far overshadowed by the fame of the old lighthouse and the historic Landing Dune with the granite cross marking the historic spot.

Fort Story received its name from Major Gen. John Patton Story, who spent much of his life in the service of the Coast Artillery Corps at Fort Monroe and who was regarded as one of the most capable artillerymen of his day.

Almost overnight, Fort Story was galvanized into wartime activity by an intensive rearmament program and barracks, cantonments and army buildings sprung into being like mushrooms. Additional land was "borrowed" from the State Conservation Commission for five years and a hospital was built.

As all mushroom wartime activities fade, so far the emergency unit at Ft. Story, and buildings of all descriptions are being offered for sale. Barracks and mess halls, dwelling houses and motor sheds will be sold to the highest bidder on March 15. Even the fire control towers located along the beach are to go to the bidder who desires them.

The Real Estate officer of the Real Estate and Legal Division, Ft. Norfolk, says that inspection may be made of the buildings for sale upon inquiry at the Post Engineers Office at Ft. Story. All bids must be presented in writing and sealed prior to March 15 and additional information may be secured from the Ft. Story Office of Engineers or by contact with the office at Ft. Norfolk.

Youth Organize In P. A. County

The recently organized group of young people of Princess Anne County met in Creds High School January 20. This was the second meeting of the organization which County Agent H. W. Ozlin, invited all young people between the ages of 18 and 28 to form for the purpose of study, recreation and social activity.

The highlight of the January meeting was a talk by Jack Perkins, who went with Admiral Byrd on two Antarctic expeditions. W. W. Eure, associate Rural Organization Specialist also addressed the group on the opportunities which such an organization offered to young people of the community.

Officers will be elected, Mr. Ozlin said, and committees appointed at the meeting February 24, at the Courthouse School.

Ozlin said that the group has three objectives, educational, recreational and community service, all of which, he said, lead to good citizenship.

Mrs. Creekmore Opens Salon Here

Mrs. Flossie Creekmore, formerly with Harold's Beauty Shop, has now opened her own new and modern establishment at 2612 Atlantic Avenue.

Mrs. Creekmore says that competent beauticians are ready to serve the most fastidious and exacting customers and invites visitors to inspect her shop.

HOUSE COMMITTEE ESTABLISHES RULES FOR COMMUNITY HOUSE

Ackiss Discusses County School Needs at Meeting

The inadequacy of the present real estate tax to meet urgent school needs in Princess Anne County was the subject for discussion at the regular meeting of the Princess Anne County Civic Council on Wednesday evening.

F. W. Ackiss, Commonwealth Attorney, addressing the group, said that schools in the county need one million dollars and asked the question, "Where is it coming from?" Mr. Ackiss gave a resume of the total tax revenue in the county and pointed out that the Kemperville school alone needed $300,000 to meet the necessary enlargement program.

Ackiss spoke on the one-time "kangaroo" courts in the county and said they no longer existed and that all arrests were now taken to the court-house where fines were paid into proper channels.

Mr. Ackiss also commented on the present parole system in the county and said that 85 per cent of those out on parole were conducting themselves as better citizens and not being returned from further misconduct. He also advised women for jury duty, saying they have equal rights as citizens and at times their judgment could be valuable in jury service.

East Ocean View

Representatives from the East Ocean View League stated that a resolution had been sent to Representative Davis protesting the annexation of that section of the City of Norfolk and also protested the institution of a pay roll tax for county residents employed in Norfolk.

Other matters which were discussed included the proposition of State operated school buses and the formation of bell teams among the children of the various leagues in the council. These teams would compete for a trophy to be held by the winning team.

Announcement was made that the next meeting of the council would be on March 10th at the Chesapeake Beach Men's Club and would be sponsored by the Civic League of Chesapeake Beach.

Red Cross To Launch Drive February 27th

The 948 Red Cross Drive will get under way with a kick-off dinner meeting February 27 at the Essex House at 7 p.m.

Frank Kellam, general chairman for Princess Anne County, requests a full attendance of all workers and asks that reservations be made by either calling the Red Cross office, Virginia Beach 938, or by sending a post card to headquarters designating intentions to attend. Mr. Kellam said that preparations must be made and it is important to know the number for which to plan.

The drive will start March first.

State Softball Meet To Be In Farmville

The 1948 softball tournament for girls will be held in Farmville on August 6-7. The district tournaments for men are scheduled for July 31, August 1. Winners in this tournament are eligible for entry in the State tournament.

B. A. Wolf, State Commissioner, said that all softball teams in the district interested in tournament competition should contact him at 4308 Kensington Avenue, Richmond 21, Va., as soon as possible. He said that the Virginia Beach Lions Club team competed in the Men's State tournament held in Portsmouth last year.

House Rules and Regulations have been posted on the bulletin board by the House Committee of the Community House. These rules and regulations stipulate that: first, no alcohol will be permitted in the building at any time. Second, the operating hours of the House will be from 10 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. unless additional hours are requested and granted by the House Committee. It is agreed that the building will be closed Sundays except for special events agreeable to the House Committee. No animals or pets will be allowed in the building at any time.

Rule number five states that application for use of the building must be made in writing to the resident director ten days prior to date needed and this application must be passed on by the House Committee.

Finally, the rules stipulate that all rental fees for use of the auditorium and meeting rooms will be at the discretion of the House Committee.

Beach Library

The Virginia Beach Library which has operated on a voluntary basis, has been moved to the Southwest wing of the Community House. Mrs. W. S. Johns, librarian says there is a real need for children's books on the shelves and if anyone having or new or partially new books to dispose of will call Mrs. Eugene Patton at The Atwater, the books will be picked up and delivered to the library.

Southeast Wing

The Southeast wing of the building has been rented to the American Red Cross where office space and work rooms will be located.

The entire building, at present, is being cleaned and readied for the scheduled meetings and F. D. Shean, chairman of the House Committee says he hopes the building will be a real Community center and a useful addition to the life of the community. Margaret Fantone and Kenned Jarman and Mr. Shean on the House Committee.

Legion Auxiliary Sponsors Child Welfare Work

"Americanism and Its Effect on Juvenile Delinquency in the Community" was the subject for round table discussion at the regular meeting of the Princess Anne County American Legion Auxiliary, Unit 112.

The meeting was held in the Community House February 18. Mrs. Lillian Williams, Child Welfare chairman, reported on her attendance at the Spring Conference of American Legion and Auxiliary held in Roanoke February 6-7 with special emphasis on child welfare progress.

ADVERTISING — PUBLICITY — PROPAGANDA

Every editor is confronted with the problem of what is constructive "publicity" and what is "free advertising." It often seems difficult to draw the line where one stops and the other begins. The problem is solved this way. Publicity deals with ideas and principles—something in which all the public has a vital interest. Take for example the problems of the electric power industry; these are of real public interest as news matter or as editorial comment. But an article meant primarily to boost the sale of Blank Electric Company's kilowatts is advertising. An article which has to do with the role of the automobile industry in our national economy has nothing to do with promoting the sale of some particular car. The first is publicity on a question of common interest—the second is just plain advertising.

If an electric company wants to sell more power or an automobile company wants to push the sale of its cars it should be done through paid advertising. The same applies in all business, great or small. The newspaper has space to sell to the person who wishes to advertise what he has to sell. The newspaper has space which it gives to the free publicity of news of common interest to the community.

As a propagandist when an editor speaks his mind he is publishing a thought, a plan, a theory, a principle or an idea. For years people talked and wrote about automobiles in the days when skeptics were still shouting "Get a horse!" This propaganda had much to do with the development of the industry which has opened untold opportunities for millions.

Advertising, publicity and propaganda are essential to our way of life. They go hand in hand. It pays to advertise, publicize and propagate.

WALL PAPER'S PROUD HISTORY

Since March has been officially designated as National Wallpaper Month, it is a good time to look back into the history of this industry. It is a proud history, as old as gracious living; its traditions date back more than four centuries. At the present time wall paper is in the midst of a great revival of popularity because of its many advantages in providing a beautiful background in the home.

During the long-age days of the Middle Ages, kings and nobles lived in lofty stone castles, which, despite their magnificence, were dark and drab. As a result, they constantly sought new means of achieving warmth, color, design, and livability. For a time they depended entirely on costly hand-woven tapestries, but these took a lifetime to make. Late in the Fifteenth Century, however, there was developed in France a paper wall covering, undoubtedly adapted from century-old paper panels with which the Chinese used to decorate their homes.

Almost miraculously, these wall papers provided a feeling of warmth, color, and design which was in welcome contrast to the drab monotony of the plain walls of that day. These papers were made in small squares and were decorated entirely by hand. Consequently, they were prohibitively expensive for all but the nobility.

In later years the art spread to many craftsmen. Designs gradually improved and the cost naturally decreased as knowledge of the wall paper art and its techniques increased.

Within the past twenty years American ingenuity has developed beautiful wall paper, printed in lightfast colors. Today, wall paper is practical as well as beautiful. Thanks to modern methods of production, its great advantages are accessible to each and every home—no longer limited to the wealthy. There is a wall paper to fit every color scheme, every taste, and every mode of living.

This is a good time to contemplate the wall paper industry. Its history has been a good job in educating the American public in good taste and style in decorating. They realize that it is a long-term program, but it pays off in the increased numbers of beautiful homes. Wall paper is indeed the fashionable background today—and will continue to be so tomorrow.

HOUSES FOR CHILDREN

Here is an interesting item of news, from Sallisaw, Oklahoma, where G. E. Slemore, described as the municipality's largest landlord, says that he will rent to no one without children in the future and will make one month's rent free to any family having a baby while living in one of his houses.

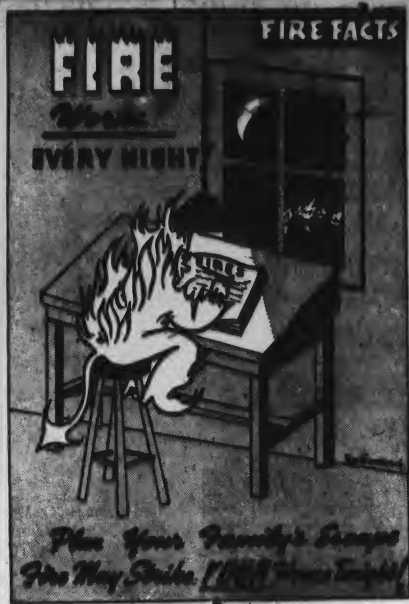

This ought to interest some landlords who are averse to renting their property to families with children. As Mr. Slemore asks, "What do they want to do with children; hang them on trees?" It is easy to understand the attitude of some landlords, because children have a way of increasing the cost of upkeep. Being in the business for the money they collect from rent, the landlords find it practical to rent their homes and apartments to childless couples.

While appreciating the problems that confront landlords, we are also conscious of the problems of those who try to rear children. They should have some rights and, if necessary, the State should pass legislation designed to give some priority to families with children.

—Winchester Evening Star.

WATCH YOUR STEP

There are widespread evidences throughout the country that more trouble is brewing for American business. The banks are tightening up on loans, evidently because bankers have concluded that it is time to be cautious—particularly in view of price breaks, locally and nationally. If some more before-price price controls are cooked up in Washington our bankers will be compelled to grow tough and curtail loans. History always repeats, so watch your step!

STALIN, TAKE NOTICE

The best people of the World live today in the Western States of Europe, and they have joined together to oppose the illiterate and backward Eastern blocs of Russia—where civilization has been kept on the downward grade ever since the Russians shot their Emperor and his family.

The World has suffered too much to yield any further to Communism and the rules and regulations of Government in Moscow.

"BEHIND THE SCENES IN AMERICAN BUSINESS"

by Reynolds Knight

That long awaited break in the price level has finally arrived. Old Man High Cost of Living, usually pictured in the cartoons as a tall, unfriendly creature, will never look the same again.

What is the ultimate meaning of this astounding crack in our primary markets? It immediately conjures memories of 1929. But few of the steady, far-sighted observers expect this break to develop into a rout of our economy. This break, in the opinion of the few people's worth listening to, is a correction of a miscalculation and not the beginning of the end. The correction was overdue. And some good things will come out of it. Your customer the American housewife has had her purchasing power increased. She can now buy more food and still have something left over for other needed items. There will be less pressure for higher wages. Some kind of tax cut will go through Congress. And the farmer's purchasing power will still be high. True, crops are better throughout the world, but there is still a vast hunger in many lands. And the government, which talks anti-inflation, will still spend $40 billion, which hardly can be considered deflationary.

ON GOVERNMENT SUBSIDIES

During the 12 years from 1934 to 1946, the total of government subsidies to the 48 states and to agriculture and business amounted to $3 billion dollars. This is the fantastic picture of Washington paternalism as cited to Congress by Senator Byrd, chairman of the Joint Congressional Economy Committee.

Pointing out that acceptance of Federal grants causes unwarranted expansion of existing services and launches new projects by State and local governments, the New Jersey Taxpayers Association says: "Federal grants-in-aid represent the most extravagant kind of government finance."—Telegram, Hickenack, New Jersey.

A COMMUNITY PROJECT

The purchase of the old USO building and turning it into a Community House and Youth Center affords an excellent opportunity for a project on which there can be a united front and a united interest. Activities which center around the youth in a community should have no undercurrent of unpleasant "taking sides." Fair play and good citizenship should be exemplified in every phase of the work to be carried on. The building is offered to every legitimate organization for use. Fair house rules have been set up by an unbiased House Committee. Youth interest is a common interest and one in which an entire population can be and should be united.

SYNTHETIC RUBBER

The synthetic rubber industry cost $700,000,000 before it was "sure." It was a terrific gamble, but synthetic rubber is now regarded as superior to natural rubber. The manufacturers of synthetic rubber are making money.

A WISE JUDGE

"I became judge of the Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court on June 1, 1939. Since that time I have tried approximately 8,000 boys and girls under 17 years of age for violating the law. Of that number, only 42 were regular in attendance in Sunday school or Church. Of course others of the children had at one time or another gone to Sunday school, but many of them had not. Another unusual fact is that of these children there has not been a child in court whose father or mother attended Sunday school regularly."

Musical Musings

by Milton Epstein

Richard Strauss' charming opera "Der Rosenkavalier" was heard over the radio this week. This is a work which has taken a gradual but very real hold on the listening musicians, for it is something very special in the field of opera.

The plot, set in Old Vienna at the time of Maria Theresa, is a pretty one, at times naughty, and often nostalgic, and while it contains no arias of the old school operatic style, it has long and fine lyrical passages, and great orchestration.

We have a recording of most of this enchanting music with Lotte Lehman cast as the Marchioness, Elisabeth Schuman as Sophie, Maria Olszewska as Octavian and Richard Mayer as the Baron Ochs. I doubt if anyone has given as glorious an interpretation of the role of the Marchioness. This beautiful aging woman is wise enough to realize that she must let go of the sweets of love to youth, and does so in a soliloquy that is great music and in this recording, exquisite singing.

After the buoyancy of the third act, the Marchioness, Sophie and Octavian join in a series of concerted numbers which bring the opera to a close, leaving a memory of unblinking charm.

Strauss is best known for his Tone Poems, which are very popular on symphonic programs.

Don Juan, Don Quixote, Till Eulenspiegel, and Death and Transfiguration are the most frequently heard. All of them are fine examples of program music. Each one evokes a picture or a series of pictures of a definite character. "Till Eulenspiegel" is the perennial "bad boy" found in all folk lore, who must go through his merry pranks until tragedy overtakes him; Don Juan goes through his love affairs until love itself becomes satiating, and Don's tragedy lies in his inability to react to love. Death and Transfiguration is keyed differently, and tells us of the passing of the soul to eternal glory in purely inspired music.

Strauss is considered our greatest living composer, who combines his modernism with a deeply rooted classical training.

SYNTHETIC OIL

The next new wonder is going to be synthetic oil. The Department of Interior shows a good deal of enthusiasm over the new industry which is operating in a small way in Colorado. The plans are being made to back the synthetic oil development with billions of dollars. Don't say it can't be done. Nothing's impossible in the synthetic.

A FORWARD STEP

More workers are voting "no" when the question of strikes is brought up for action in the different unions. The best thing about the Taft-Hartley Law is that its questions and disputes can be brought to the attention of the courts. This seems to be to the advantage of both industry and labor, therefore it is a forward step.

Casting Underway on Follies Production

Miss Kitty Manby
General Follies Chairman

Mrs. M. K. Cox
Program Chairman

Casting for the Follies was begun last Thursday evening when members of the Junior Woman's Club met with Director Charles Conkling, of the James H. Carrell Production Company of New York, in the Panoram room of the Cavalier Beach and Cabana Club.

Mr. Conkling said he was well pleased with the initial turnout of would-be participants and felt assured of a successful production if the original enthusiasm continued throughout the remaining three weeks.

The casting for show-girls and play-boys, dancers and singers was practically completed at the first meeting. Talent for feature skits and specialty song and dance numbers was selected Sunday afternoon when the group met at the Ivanhoe Hotel for try-outs.

Mrs. Charles Forbes
Cabaret Chairman

First Undertaking

This Follies is the first major project of the year old Junior Woman's Club of Princess Anne County and from reports is creating wide-spread interest throughout the Town and County. March 3 is the date of the production which will be staged at the eBach Theatre.

Following the theatre production a Cabaret will take place at the Panoram room of the Cavalier Beach and Cabana Club. Mrs. Charles Forbes is chairman of this feature and has planned several attractive dance and singing numbers for entertainment. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. R. C. Deal, Jr., Mrs. Sally Williams or Mrs. Frank Whitehurst.

CABARET MEETING

There will be a meeting of all Cabaret participants Friday at 8 p.m. in the Ball room of the Cavalier Hotel.

Specialty Numbers

Specialty numbers and skits have been cast for the Beach Follies production and those who will do the specialty acts will include Shirley Dunn, Emmanuelle (Sparkie) Chambers, Bob and Jean Henderson, Ben McCleary and Mrs. Russell Gimbirt. A comedy stunt will be put on by Maurice Abernathy and Dickie Mumford.

Father Of His Country— Father Of A Smart Hairdo Too!

George Washington has a new claim to fame—and it's one that will never make the history books. His own individual way of wearing his stately wig 173 years ago has captured the fancy of the young set all over the country. It takes obedient hair to affect that new Washington look, the pageboy caught at the nape of the neck with a barrette or ribbon bow. In Washington's day wigs were powdered and groomed regularly to keep them looking their best. But today with shining manes rather than wigs creating top-knot glory, the smart girl relies on her liquid shampoo with hair conditioning action, such as Drene, to give her that every-hair-in-place look. She knows she must make every single strand of hair a thing of shining perfection if she wants to hold her own with the other glamour gals. Worn with or without bangs, with or without a wave over the ser, this Washington hairdo is combed smoothly to the nape where it is held tight by a rubber band. The band can be covered with either a bow or a barrette. The hair ends may turn under smoothly, or fluff in a bunch of individual curls, or if you take the original version of the hairstyle seriously, just hang. As with any hairstyle, however, your own interpretation of it is the thing that makes it attractive and definitely "you."

George Washington's birthday is one of the first official holidays since the New Year—a signal for a round of parties—for gaiety and fun. So "do" your hair in the manner reminiscent of America's first hero-president and put on your loveliest frock. Whether you dance the rumba or the Virginia reel, your hairdo will show that you are a girl who knows how she looks, a girl who spends time on her hair.

TEEN AGE GROUP

Teen-agers of the Beach are asked to meet at the Community House at 3 P. M. Saturday for the purpose of setting up an organization for group activities. W. K. MacDonald, chairman of the House Committee, said that Jerry Trout, Mel Goode and E. B. Bayne of the Youth Committee would meet with the group and ascertain the wishes of young people at the Beach as to the type of activity desired by the majority and to formulate some kind of organization under which to function.

MacDonald said that all persons interested are invited to attend this, the first meeting, of the new group.

In 1812, Coustou, a Parisian maker of salt-peter, innovated the use of a "water extract of burnt osdwood" in his process, which badly corroded his kettles. While trying to remove the deposit with heated sulphuric acid he produced a violet-colored vapor, which, when condensed he named Iodine, from the Greek word Iodes, meaning violet-hued.

Dramatic Club Presents Musical

"The Belle of Barcelona," a musical comedy in three acts, will be presented by the Oceana High School Music Club and Dramatic Club on February 20th at 8:00 P. M. in the High School Auditorium. The setting of the opera is in Barcelona, Spain, at the season of the Fiesta of the Tauradors. Spanish Dances and songs, rare bits of Irish humor and a "bit of merry old England" will be featured in "The Belle of Barcelona."

Peter Doran of Panama who has been spending sometime with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beckett at their home on Pocahontas Drive is now visiting his family in Norfolk.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Jones have returned to their home in Portsmouth after spending the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Bernard M. Staunton at their home on Avenue B.

"SHOPPING DAY"

by Margaret Boykin

The sun came out and down I flew to look around for pretty things for Spring and Easter gifts. On 18th Street at Miss Fantone's fascinating shop I found she had McCall patterns; they are the simplest to understand and up to the minute—pretty challs for a baby's coat, or a mother's bed jacket, daintily sprigged with French touquets, an exotic red, real silk for a cocktail blouse, and for the summer, plastic tablecloths, washable and crack resistant. I did not resist them.

To the Sundial next, as always; it's a habit. I found china from Czechoslovakia, and bought a set of delicate cups and saucers, with saled plate to match, for afternoon, or Sunday suppers. Will certainly help to dress up that always scanty meal; give out of ideas for food by that time. Pretty imports from China are coming in soon, Mrs. Dodson tells me. Mrs. Tyler is going to Hopkins. We'll miss her bright face, but she will be back by Easter, we hope.

At Riches' Department Store by the old Roland Theatre I picked up a moss green wool blouse that put me in a good humor for the day. They have a great variety, and kindly let me "just look around" for a half hour or ideas when pay day rolls around again. I can find anything in this town. If you don't know where to look, just call Miss Todd, Better Business Bureau, Chamber of Commerce Building. The telephone, No. 15 302. adv.

Common Cold Still Far From Conquered

'COLD' FACTS

THE SHARpest MICROSCOPE CAN'T GET THE COLD BUG. SCOPY SAYS. BECAUSE ABOUT ITS SHAPE. AND FROM THAT IT'S HARD TO GET OVER A COLD. GET PLANTY OF ACID, BAY AND DRINK. NORMALLY, CALL YOUR DOCTOR. IF IT GETS WORSE.

TO AVOID A COLD... COLD PEOPLE WHO MUST THEM... LEAF OUT OF DEATH, WEAR YOUR RUBBER WHEN IT'S WET.

Health authorities are intensifying warnings that Public Health Enemy No. 1—the common cold—is still far from conquered, despite recent isolation of one cold-causing "agent" by scientists of the U. S. Public Health Service. As a date, it is not even known whether the cold-demon is living or dead, though it is suspected of being a virus. It has never been photographed or seen; only its shadow has been vaguely discerned by powerful electronic microscopes. No effective cold vaccine has been developed, and it is unlikely that one will be produced until the true nature of the agent or agents responsible for colds is ascertained. The common cold, now widely recognized to be a systematic disease, may well require years. And even then, the cure may be found to be worse than the cold itself.

around the corner. Remember, the common cold is still America's most prevalent disease. It still strikes 19 of every 20 persons annually—many of them several times. It still leads indirectly to thousands of deaths from pneumonia, influenza, tuberculosis, emphysema, nephritis, heart disease—and a host of other illnesses. But while the common cold remains almost as complete a mystery as it was more than 2,400 years ago, a great deal has been learned about how to lessen the chances of getting a cold. Here are some simple suggestions that have stood the test of time and scientific scrutiny:

1. Keep in good general health by eating the right foods, getting fresh air and exercise and plenty of rest.
2. Wear warm clothing when the weather is cold, especially in numbers when it rains or snows.
3. Avoid draughts and sudden temperature changes.
4. Sleep—Sleep is the best of all remedies for persons who are ill.

MITT—HOBSTMAN

The Rev. and Mrs. A. Webster Horstman announce the marriage of their daughter, Marilyn Ruth, to Mr. William Benjamin Mitt, of Petersburg. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father on Friday, January 16th, in Emmanuel Episcopal Church. The church was decorated with ferns and white snapdragons. Cathedral candles formed the only altar light. The bride wore a gray traveling suit with contrasting accessories and a corsage of bride's roses. Miss Barbara Horstman was her sister's maid of honor and only attendant. A wedding breakfast was served in the rectory at Kemptsville immediately after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Mitt are making their home temporarily at 139 Elm Street in Petersburg, Va.

The Rev. and Mrs. A. Webster Horstman had as their week-end guests at the rectory their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Mitt, of Petersburg, Va. Mr. Alan Gettel will leave for Tucson, Arizona, on February 20, to join the Cleveland Indians in Spring baseball practice. From Tucson the team will go to Los Angeles, California.

The Store Where Courtship Prevails

Meanless meals needn't be tasteless meals! Because it's easy to give old Lenton standbys "the new look." All you need is a 1/2 box of ideas like the ones I'm going to pass on to you today, and a stock of fine foods from your thrifty A&P.

ALL-AMERICAN FOR LENT

Want mighty delicious? Lenton eating for 4? Stir 1 1/2 cups flour; measure and sift again with 2 cups baking powder and 1/2 cup salt. Add 1/2 cup cubed MEL.

AMERICAN CHEESE from the A&P. Blend Combine 1 well-beaten egg, 1/2 cup milk and 1 tbsp. melted shortening. Add to dry ingredients, stirring till all flour is moist. Bake in greased 4" ring mold in hot oven, 425°F., 25 minutes, or till done. Fill with creamed vegetables. Serve at once.

SPRINKLE WITH 1/2 cup grated cheese, and bake in moderate oven, 375°F., about 1/2 hr. Serves 4.

SPRIT OF 76 SALAD

When can't you beat a drum? When it's a Washington's Birthday salad made like this: To 1/2 lb. of cream cheese, add 2 tbsp. of A&P's ANN PAGE GARDEN RELISH, and beat till smooth.

For each guest, spread mixture about 1 inch thick between 2 tomato slices, and arrange strips of green pepper diagonally across filling. Serve with 2 creamed cucumbers made of 4-inch pieces of celery topped with stuffed olives. Serves 4.

TONY MACCARONI

To make a Yankee Doodle Don't dish that'll be a feather in your cap, cook 1 cup A&P's PAGE ELBOW MACARONI according to pkg. directions. Drain.

Put 1/2 macaroni in greased casserole; add 1 1/2 cups flaked salmon and 1 cup medium white sauce. Add remaining macaroni and another cup of white sauce. Sprinkle with 1/2 cup grated cheese, and bake in moderate oven, 375°F., about 1/2 hr. Serves 4.

Against the background of a Ford convertible in pheasant red is shown typical best-dressed "lady in a suit" as pictured in the September issue of Good Housekeeping magazine. Suit consists of double-breasted jacket, buttoning into slim waist over slim skirt. Available in purple, brown or black plaid combinations.

Mr. and Mrs. Selden Grandy will leave today to spend the week end with Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor Ham at their home in Charlottesville, Va.

Free Ride For You—on the Freedom Train!

We had a real thrill in Our Town just the other day—when the Freedom Train stopped by!

You've heard about it, of course—an actual train that's touring the country to remind us again what true Democracy means. It carries such Americans as the Declaration of Independence, the Bill of Rights, and other immortal documents that guarantee every citizen his liberty.

A great idea! And from where I sit, we're all riding along with that Freedom Train—right now—by living in a country that protects our individual liberties—whether they apply to our right to vote, to choose our church, to speak our minds, or enjoy a glass of beer with friends.

Only thing is—we've got to prove ourselves worthy of the ride... by guarding zealously against whatever forces of intolerance encroach upon our American concepts of live-and-let-live, in a free and strong Democracy!

WINTER CHORES ARE EASIER with the 'UNIVERSAL' Jeep

● You can do your winter chores much faster if there's a "Jeep" on the job—especially when snow is deep or mud is soft and sticky. The 4-wheel-drive Universal "Jeep" goes through churned-up farmyards, over impassable winter roads, even across rough open country. With new all metal top and the heater going, you can work the "Jeep" right through the coldest weather—using it for such widely different jobs as spreading manure, hauling produce or feeding supplies. The "Jeep" also furnishes power for operating many kinds of belt-driven equipment, including hammer mills, buzz saws, feed grinders and numerous others that you use the year round. Let us show you what the "Jeep" can do.

All wool is not snow - get one Big Enough!

IT MAY be 100% virgin wool. It may be imported from England or Scotland. It may be of a color that "does things" for you. It may even be hand-knit.

BUT, if it isn't big enough it's practically useless. Yet, one that would fit would cost very little more.

The same is true of an Automatic Electric Water Heater for your home. It should be big enough to (a) provide floods of hot water around the clock and (b) enable you to take advantage of our economical Time Controlled Storage Water Heating Rate, which provides four gallons of hot water for only a penny. With an Automatic Electric Water Heater, your hot water worries are over. There is nothing to remember or forget. No waiting. No worry. No fumes. No odors. No dirt... it's as clean as electric light.

Over 19,000 of our customers now heat water by wire, and approximately 7,000 of these customers have installed Automatic Electric Water Heaters since January 1, 1947.

Your dealer will gladly help you select a size to suit your needs.

EMERGENCY LOAD LIMIT SIGNS HAVE BEEN PLACED ON HIGHWAYS

LOAD LIMITS

Emergency load limits were imposed on many roads in Princess Anne County beginning Monday, February 16th, the State Highway Department resident engineer at Norfolk announced this week.

The restrictions were put in effect as the department seeks to avert a widespread road breakup which might occur when the deep freeze now in the ground begins to thaw.

Throughout the State, all heavy duty interstate highways will continue to carry their present 20-ton gross limit. Many weaker primary roads will be limited to 15 tons, although some will continue to carry their present 17.5-ton limit. Most secondary roads are limited to eight tons.

Officials emphasized that all limits are "gross," including the weight of both the vehicle and load.

The load limits were imposed in an effort to avoid road breakups similar to those which followed the winter of 1935-36. In that winter, many thousands of secondary miles became impassable and many hard-surfaced miles along the primary system broke up and were left unfit for travel.

The winter of 1947-48 with deep freezes in the ground for the past several weeks, has been the most intense since 1935-36, highway officials have said. Unless load limits are strictly observed, a "catastrophic statewide emergency" will follow a quick thaw.

During 1935-36, it took many months and $5,000,000 in road funds to repair the damage. Costs are now higher, and with a much greater investment now on the road system, a serious breakup would be "far more costly" than in that winter.

When an intense freeze goes deep in the ground, there is a constant "capillary" action which brings water to the surface, highway engineers explained. When it reaches the surface, this water freezes into "frost boils." When the thaw comes and the "boils" melt, there is nothing left to support the road and a collapse of the road surface follows.

LOAD LIMIT 8 TONS
VIRGINIA
DEPARTMENT OF HIGHWAYS

WATCH FOR THESE SIGNS!

These signs, to be posted by February 16, will inform haulers of the emergency load limits in effect on Virginia roads.

Keep Down Upkeep

... Build With Quality Lumber

First costs are important, certainly. But remember, upkeep is important, too. QUALITY LUMBER costs only a little more, but assures you a staunch, sound, lasting home. Over the years, you'll find it more economical to build with our well seasoned, standard graded lumber. Let us show you what we mean. Road Tinkering Is Costly

It costs less to build a concrete road than to maintain a dirt road.

PAVED BETTER THAN DIRT CONCRETE

Actual figures from the 27 states which publish comparable records show that surface maintenance costs for concrete average only $99.68 per mile per year. For the paving material that makes the next best showing in economy the cost is 50% more than that of concrete. For all surfaces other than concrete, the cost averages 2 1/2 times as great—although concrete in general carries the heaviest traffic.

Concrete Costs Least

Concrete gives the greatest load-carrying capacity per dollar of cost. It is the most road-skid-resistant, highly visible. And it costs less to maintain. All good reasons why your new road should be concrete.

Win National Model Building Honors

Turning Cars Are Pedestrian Hazard Warns A.A.A.

With 30 per cent of urban fatal traffic accidents resulting from collisions with pedestrians at intersections, many of them involving turning cars, John B. Dey, vice president of the T. A. A., announced distribution of "Watch for Turning Cars" safety education materials to schools here to develop alertness in children to this hazard.

"Though many measures are taken for pedestrian protection at many city intersections, the pedestrian must share in assuming a personal responsibility for being on the alert for turning cars," Mr. Dey said. "The motorist has a similar responsibility in watching out for pedestrians who have started to cross and in giving them their rightful right of way. School safety education activities have for their objectives the creating of an awareness of this and other safe-walking rules among their students, and the Tidewater Automobile Association is happy to cooperate with teachers in this respect."

"The poster and lesson units being distributed this month stress the WATCH FOR TURNING CARS rule and are designed to aid the children, through observation, games, and integrated classroom activities, to establish habits that will result in life-long safe-walking practices."

"The WATCH FOR TURNING CARS poster was one of the ten first prize winning posters of the 1947 National AAA School Traffic Poster Contest. It was submitted by Bernard Hoffman, of the High School of Music and Art, New York City. Realizing the importance of this rule, the American Automobile Association has again selected it as one of the slogans to be illustrated in the 1948 Traffic Safety Poster Contest now underway."

County Board Approves 1948 Extension Plans

The County Board of Agriculture approved last week the 1948 program of work outlined by the extension workers in Princess Anne under the direction of H. W. Olin, county agent and A. V. Watts, county agent at large.

The report stated that the policy of the Extension workers in the county would be to assist farmers in adjusting their enterprises during this reconversion period so as to maintain and if possible, raise the standard of living. The program plans to keep farmers informed as to the latest production methods, new varieties, new crops and how to maintain and increase the fertility of the soil.

County Organizations

Olin said the Extension workers will meet periodically to discuss phases of the Extension program. The County Board of Agriculture will hold a series of four meetings to set up committees for general county work.

The work of the County Farm Bureau will be outlined to assist farmers with production and price problems.

In the field of agronomy, the board outlined a series of demonstrations and an educational program for the benefit of the farmers. Forestry planning and management has also been included in the outlined program. Soil Conservation and Improvement.

Drainage program will receive a prominent place in the 1948 schedule with the idea of organized community drainage projects. An attempt will also be made to show the importance of maintaining and building up soil fertility by cover crops and the importance of lime in economical crop production.

Livestock, poultry and horticulture and production and marketing will be studied.

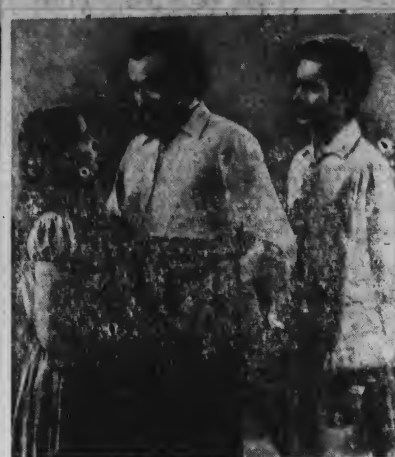

4-H Club Work

County Agent Olin stressed the importance of youth activities and the plan for rural boys and girls will include the organization of eight community clubs; additional enrollment of members; project instruction; record book inspection and other achievement programs. A plan is also outlined for the organization of older youths in the county for the development of leadership and citizenship and the encouragement of wholesome recreational activities.

The whole program is planned as informational on economic conditions and demands for farm produce.

He was a locomotive engineer for the Norfolk Southern Railroad for 35 years until his retirement in 1943.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Holloman-Brown Funeral Home today at 3 P. M. Burial will be in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

PRESBYTERIAN MEN'S CLUB HOLD MEETING HONORING BOY SCOUTS

Members of Troop 60, Boy Scouts, were guest at the regular meeting of the Presbyterian Men's Club Wednesday evening in the Presbyterian Sunday school building.

Troop 60 is sponsored by the club and at the meeting Wednesday evening special recognition was given members for having won the Robert Simpson Honor Flag for the Princess Anne District of Boy Scouts.

Competition for the honor flag is among seven active troops in the district and the basis of award covers three points: 1. Advancement of the boys of the troop in scouting; 2. Points won by the boys of the troop at district rallies and at camps; 3. Attendance of the committee members at troop committee meetings. Runners-up for the honor flag were the London Bridge Troop in second place and the P. Story Troop in third place.

Mr. Wm. K. Macdonald, Scoutmaster of the troop, conducted the program of the evening. He called upon several scouts of his troop to make brief talks on scouting activities and organization. Alfred Smith, Life Scout, gave a brief history of scouting; Ashley Baum, Eagle Scout, gave an outline of the organization of the Boy Scouts of America; George Barco, Eagle Scout and Junior Assistant Scoutmaster, explained the requirements and various scout ranks; Southern Wallace, First Class Scout, explained the activities, organization and requirements of Cub Scouts. Troop as Currie, Eagle Scout and Junior Assistant Scoutmaster, gave a talk on Scoutmaster's duties.

Scoutmaster Macdonald was quick to explain to the audience that Scout Currie was the only scout in the eastern part of Virginia, east of Richmond, to win the right to attend the International Jamboree of Scouts in Paris last August. His election to attend the jamboree was based on competition involving general citizenship, scholarship in school, scouting ability and leadership.

Mr. Russell Hatchett, chairman of the Troop Committee, expressed the gratitude of his committee to the Presbyterian Church for permitting his troop to hold meetings at the church. One of the chief responsibilities of a troop committee is to provide a meeting place for the weekly meetings of a troop. But Mr. Hatchett explained that it would be only a matter of a few months until the new Troop 60 Scout Building would be completed at their property on Linkhorn Bay at 32nd Street. Other members of Mr. Hatchett's committee are: Sidney Kellam, G. K. Willis, A. W. Turnbull, Haddon Hillard, Wythe Lee and A. E. Greig.

Mr. Bert Chaffee, chairman of the Princess Anne District of the Tidewater Council of Scouting, explained the requirements of the National Scouting Organization, in that before a troop can become affiliated with the Boy Scouts of America, that first they must have a sponsoring organization, one like the Presbyterian Men's Club; that there must be an active troop committee appointed by the sponsoring organization. The sponsoring organization is more or less responsible for the troop to the national scouting organization. Mr. Chaffee presented the 1948 Troop Charter to the sponsoring organization. In the absence of the President of the club, Mr. Gerald Franklin, president of the Presbyterian Men's Club, the charter was accepted by R. M. Stanton, vice president of the club, who preside at the meeting.

Mr. Chaffee also introduced visiting Scout executives, Mr. Harold Pace, Scout Executive of the Tidewater Council, and Mr. Ralph Jordan, Assistant Scout Executive for the Princess Anne District. Mr. Jordan explained that scouting in the Princess Anne District has grown so that it is now nearly a full time activity of its own, and that he has recently been appointed to that post. Mr. Jordan expressed his hopes and ambitions for expanding scouting in the district.

Scoutmaster Macdonald explains that his Troop 60 is definitely a non-denominational troop, in that the boys of his troop are drawn from families of all five churches of Virginia Beach. The troop is not sponsored by the Presbyterian Men's Club, which itself is a non-denominational organization, having as its members men from all churches of the town and county.

Colored Group To Organize Volunteer Fire Department

Officers and men of the Virginia Beach Volunteer Fire Department will meet with members of the Colored Civic League, at their invitation, following the regular meeting on Tuesday evening in the Civic Hall in Sealeck.

Fire Chief Bayne said the purpose of the meeting was to assist residents of the Sealeck area in organizing a volunteer fire group. Bayne said the group has a house which they are now trying to get going and they wish to get going as fast as possible. They plan to raise necessary money to equip a fire fighting unit.

Any volunteer group in Princess Anne County which meets all fire requirements in equipment and work and is able to pass the inspection of county officers is entitled to the $100 per month paid by the county for such service. Bayne said that the thirty members of the town unit were interested in rendering all possible assistance to the colored group and that training classes would begin as soon as could be organized.

Council to Meet

The regular meeting of the Town Council will be held in the upper chamber at 8 p.m. Monday, March 1. R. A. Jones, clerk announced. This meeting conflicts with the program planned by the W. T. Cooke school PTA which plans to celebrate "Father's Night" on the same evening. An attempt was made to postpone the meeting of the council, however, Mr. McClanahan said that matters were decided for the meeting which necessitated holding the session at the regular time.

Community House Already Becoming Popular Center

During the week of February 16-21 more than 1000 persons visited the recently acquired Community House, according to William Fantone, director of the civic center.

Fantone stated that the building was in use constantly throughout the week during the hours from 10 a.m. until 9:30 p.m., such hours being set by the House Committee that the building will be open.

Written applications should be made to director Fantone at the Community House for use of the building. All applications should be made at least 15 days prior to the date requested for use of the facilities, and these applications will be reviewed by the House Committee at its regular weekly meeting held on Wednesday afternoon. The House committee will then forward its recommendations to the permanent Youth Commission, and the applicant will be notified whether the application has been approved or rejected by the Director.

The Junior Women's Club has been staging rehearsals daily during the past week for its "Beach Polls" to be presented in the Beach Theatre on Wednesday, March 3rd. Various acts in the show have been in rehearsal in the Community House nightly, and will continue rehearsals through March 2nd.

Weekly meetings of the Girl Scouts and Hi-Y have been scheduled for the Center. The Girl Scouts committee will meet each Wednesday from 10:30 until 2:30 o'clock. The Hi-Y will meet each Wednesday evening from 7:30 until 9:30 o'clock.

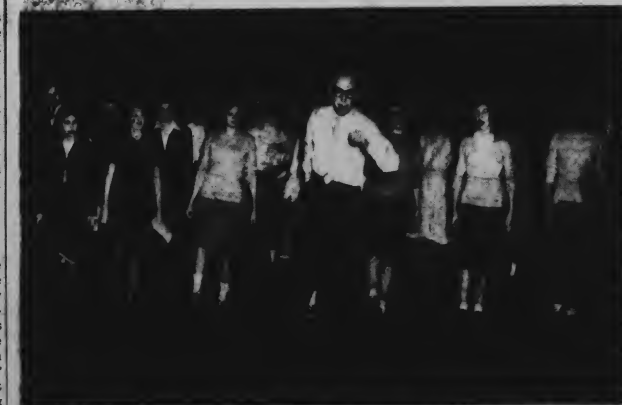

Alterations are being made to quarters which will house the Princess Anne Chapter of the American Red Cross. It is expected that these offices will be completed around March 15.

William Fantone To Direct Center

The Board of Governors of the Community House has appointed William Fantone to serve as permanent Director of the building.

Mr. Fantone has been a resident of Virginia Beach for the past fifteen years. Prior to moving to the Beach he resided in Norfolk where he was a member of the cotton firm of "Holmes and Dawson". For the past ten years Mr. Fantone has served as a specialist with the Department of Agriculture. This position taking him through all Southern States, California and Mexico. During the war he was active as a volunteer worker in the USO Club.

Youth Activity in County, Theme of Woman's Club

An outstanding exhibit of art work done by pupils of the elementary schools in Princess Anne County was presented at the meeting of the Woman's Club on Monday. The meeting was held at the Pine Tree Inn with an attendance of 87 members.

In the absence of Mrs. Walter Gresham, chairman of Education in the club, Mrs. Frank Cox presented Mrs. Grace Harrell, principal of the Bayside school and Mrs. Hortense Parkerson, elementary teacher, in a program of Health, Physical Education, Art and Music in the public schools for the county.

Mrs. Russell Hatchett, president, appointed a committee to meet with Mrs. Frank Cox, president of the Order of Cape Henry, 1897, to formulate plans for the 1948 Cape Henry Pilgrimage and the participation of club members in the annual event. Mrs. Wallace Clark is chairman of the Princess Anne Chapter of the order and wishes to remind members that annual dues will be due at the March meeting.

Mrs. A. M. Hagwood will serve as chairman of the committee assisted by Mrs. G. C. Manson; Mrs. R. H. Owen; Mrs. Walter Shelton; Mrs. S. S. Kellam; Mrs. Walter Taylor; Mrs. Walter Howren; Mrs. W. F. Rudging; Mrs. Lewis Throm; Mrs. E. L. Cooper and Mrs. J. W. Spruill.

Members of Officers Mrs. Hatchett announced that the next meeting will be held at the Pine Tree Inn-March 5th at which time there will be election of officers.

JACK WERTZ NAMED TO HEAD YOUTH GROUP

A group of young Virginia Beach residents met at the Community House on Saturday, February 21st and formed the first Virginia Beach Teen-Agers organization. A slate of officers was elected and committee named.

Officers named at the initial meeting were: Jack Wertz, president; Bob Hagwood, vice-president; Anne Davis, secretary; Elaine Myers, treasurer. Mary Anne Brown, Andrew Jensen and Jimmy Wilson were named to the House and Rules committee. The Athletic committee is made up of Jim Kunkler, K. Z. Bowden and Bobby Rice. An Activities committee composed of Dorothy Spence, Shirley Gilman, Jeanne Hagwood and Margaret Smith was also named.

A senior committee to guide the youths in their programs was named. This group includes Jerry Trout, E. B. Bayne, Mel Good and W. K. Macdonald.

Nicholson Reports No Bids on Jetty Job Ocean Club Opens "Burning Crosses" On March Fifth, New Management

After being shuttered for the winter months, the OCEAN CLUB at 1th and Atlantic Avenue will reopen on March 5 under new management. The Club has been completely redecorated and furnished, making it one of the most modern clubs in the South.

A new policy of operation will also be inaugurated with out a cover charge or membership fee. Dancing nightly from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m.

The management has secured Tony Reed and his twelve piece orchestra to provide music at the club. Orchestra leader Reed, and his band have just completed a three month's engagement at the Hotel Edison in New York and will come direct to the Beach from there. Reed's band is composed of all ex-G.I.s, featuring Tommy Reed and his saxophone with many specialty acts.

Tommy Reed's Band broadcasts nightly over three networks. They play over CBS on Wednesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays from 11:30 to midnight. On Sundays and Tuesdays they are on Mutual from 12:30 to 12:45. On Tuesdays from 4:30 to 5:00 p.m. they are on the Treasury Bandstand.

This band has received "rave notices" in press and magazine publications from all over the country.

With this gala attraction the Ocean Club will start a new policy of nightly dancing. The opening night, March 5th will mark a new era in "night life" for Tidewater Virginia.

COMMITTEE TO NAME OFFICERS FOR B. B. A. HERE

The Nominating Committee for the selection of new officers of the Better Business Association for 1948 will meet at an early date, it has been announced by James Kontopoulos, chairman of the committee.

President Frank D. Shean named a committee of five on January 31 to nominate a slate of officers for the current year, but inclement and unusual winter-weather has prevented a meeting of the group. Named to the committee, in addition to Kontopoulos, were Julian Pearson, P. H. Carroll, Frank W. Kellam and Fred L. Walte.

Fathers' Night

Fathers' Night will be observed at the W. T. Cooke school Monday, March 1. Miss Lucy Mason Holt, principle of the Ocean View school, will be guest speaker. A special musical program has been prepared by school club girls, according to an announcement by Mrs. L. W. Meechum, president.

Have Earmarks Of Juvenile Prank

Reverting to the memorable days of Grace Sherwood and her witchcraft or to pranks and initiation stunts, colored residents of Princess Anne County were aroused by fire and gun shots early last Wednesday evening.

Several eye witnesses reported the incidents, which coincided in every detail. Beulah Smith, store owner at New Light, near Indian River Road, said at approximately 9 P.M. a car stopped about 40 feet from the small store which she operated when a passenger alighted and stuck a cross, apparently three feet high, in the ditch bank on the side of the road, set fire to it and as the car sped away from the scene fired several shots into the air.

Three miles further down the road at Powell's Corner Walter Unsell reported an identical occurrence.

An attempt was also made to place another such cross in Sealeck in front of the vacant lot 100 yards from the colored American Legion Club, which is not in use for meetings at present, according to John Thorogood, a resident of Sealeck. This last bit of wood was not burned and is now in the possession of Nelson, who, understand, is keeping it as a souvenir.

Princess Anne County officials said there has been no evidence of Klan organization or any racial tension or demonstration in the county.

Chief of Police Reeves-Johnson said that rumor was all he had heard in Virginia Beach and nothing could be done by local police until these rumors were substantiated by facts.

O.E.S. Crowns King and Queen At Banquet

The Worthy Matron and Patron of the Virginia Beach Chapter O.E.S. were honored at a banquet at the Pine Tree Inn on Tuesday evening.

The program, planned by Mrs. Grace DeVal, consisted in the crowning of Mrs. Estelle Gregory, worthy Matron and George L. Wally, Worthy Patron, queen and king for the evening, Father Time in the person of Henry Shannon, and his wives reviewed the chief events of the Matron's year and Mrs. Anle M. Gregory, as a gypsy, forecast the future of these two officers.

Mrs. Anita Massey, Associate Matron of the Chapter, was mistress of ceremonies and expressed a welcome to honor guests, among whom were Mrs. Rhama L. Gray, Past Grand Matron of the Grand Chapter of Virginia O.E.S. and representatives, Mrs. Celia May and Mrs. Maude Shannon and committee member Mrs. Estelle Cox.

Music was furnished by Mrs. Volle Moore accompanied by Mrs. Agnes Aldridge at the piano. The scrap book of annual achievements was displayed to the club members.

Lions Club Has Dinner Dance

Members of the Lions Club of Virginia Beach entertained their wives and members of the soft ball team, which they sponsor, and their wives at a dinner dance Thursday evening at the Piney Point Club. The program was under the chairmanship of John Addenbrook who secured Billy Vincent's orchestra from Norfolk for the dancing.

In reporting the meeting G. C. Baker, publicity chairman said: The meeting was very successful, and participating members enjoyed the occasion.

The Virginia Beach Town Council met in special session Saturday morning for the purpose of receiving bids on the construction of groins or jetties to prevent further beach erosion and also to pass on the second reading of the ordinance authorizing the town to borrow $17,500 for the purchase of the USO building.

All members of the council were in attendance except Wm. Fatten and voted unanimously on the proposed ordinance.

Previously the town council had set the time limit for January 29 for the receiving of bids for the work of building the groins. No bids having been received, the time limit was set up to January 14, and upon report of Clyde Nicholson, town engineer, that no one had submitted a bid, the time limit was again extended until February 21.

Nicholson read taken bid from C. T. Whitehead who proposed the construction of a 200-foot Jetty of stone at a cost of $18,000, at the extreme south end of the Beach, at 13th Street. Mr. Whitehead's proposal was the placing of stones with a nine-foot depth, twelve feet wide at the base and tapering to three feet at the top. This type of structure is planned as a breakwater to prevent the heavy backwash and removal of sand from the beach.

The only other suggestion was from Garrett Smith, who presented a verbal proposition of beachfront groins with an outer boundary forming a temporary basin from which the sands could not be washed. Upon suggestion of Councilman Murray, it was decided to refer both Mr. Whitehead's and Mr. Smith's ideas to the U. S. Engineers for analyzing and study.

Mr. Nicholson again explained in detail the action of groins and jetties, which he said were theory only as far as this beach is concerned. Groins, he stated, were built across the beach and as a fence would catch drifting sand, debris and other material, a jetty which would stretch out into the water would have a tendency to calm the water or raise its elevation. In other words, groins raise the elevation of the beach and jetties raise the elevation of the water, he said. Nicholson said that groins would not give what we want, which is a gradual sloping beach, but would undoubtedly hold what we have and have a tendency to prevent further undermining; that there is not enough suspended sand in the water to build up a beach, if the groins were built. Should sand be brought in and deposited on the beach a north wind would wash it away. This was another alternative suggestion.

Captain Barnes and L. W. Garrison, lifetime residents of Virginia Beach, voiced the opinion that this situation was not new to the beach, and there was very little vacation in the beach over the past twenty years and that actual measurements during the elevation of the beach at Sealeck with 20 years ago; that the moving of the sand west to Sealeck and that the only solution was to leave it to the natural elements.

Wm. McClanahan made the suggestion that the present financial status of the town did not warrant throwing any money away on projects which gave no assurance of success, but that the question at hand was he saw it to keep what the beach has and to repair and maintain the present concrete walkway, for without that Virginia Beach would have little to offer summer visitors.

New Lighting Contract Fred Cooke, manager of the local office of the Virginia Electric and Power Company, said the present contract with his company expired December 31, and that the company wished to increase and modernize the lighting at the Beach at an additional cost to the town of $2,000 per year over the last figures. F. T. Murray, speaking for the Utility Committee of the council, said that his committee felt they did not wish to increase the present expenditures for current to that extent and recommended Mr. Cooke to secure another contract from the power company.

PROPAGANDA IN ITS TRUE LIGHT

The unwarranted interpretation and publicity given what appears to be a thoughtless prank by juveniles in the county is most unfortunate.

As a result of the exaggerated newspaper account of "burning crosses and hooded men," colored residents of Princess Anne County are gathering in various groups with "Klu Klux Klan" on their lips and fear in their hearts.

Princess Anne residents, white and colored, may have differences among themselves but from all reports have worked harmoniously together.

It is regrettable that any thought or idea, which tends to incite racial feeling, has been given such free and wide-spread publicity.

At a recent Southern Governor's Conference in Washington Governor Tuck said: "In Virginia, the white and Negro people have lived together in mutual respect for each other and in peace and harmony longer than in any other place in the Western Hemisphere. We will resist any legislation, State or Federal, designed to imperil this relationship."

RANDOM NOTES — GLEANED ABOUT THE BEACH

Beach erosion seems to be the problem all along the coast and not entirely peculiar to Virginia Beach. On the street corner, in business offices and in public meetings, citizens are expressing grave consternation over our receding beach and many theories are advanced as to the cause. A recent article in a nearby newspaper stated that "sand along the beaches of North Carolina are shifting and washing away." Surveys continue to show the receding lines but as yet few surveys show what must be done to prevent the condition. Many pet theories are propounded but all theories are very costly. No one can say where the money is coming from to experiment.

Winter traffic lights are causing local motorists considerable irritation and many complaints reach the NEWS office from impatient drivers. "Why a traffic light at dead end streets?—Why not thru North-South traffic on the East side of Atlantic Avenue where there is no cross traffic?" — A check with chief of Police Reeves Johnson proved, from his point, that they serve a valuable purpose in maintaining the 25 mile speed limit on Atlantic Ave. and that since their installation there had been no traffic accidents at those intersections. Mr. Johnson also said that the lights had been timed so perfectly that a 25 mile speed would enable motorists to make the green lights through town with no inconvenience or delay.

A great deal of useful work is being done about Virginia Beach in the building of new homes and the general improving of home grounds. The Beautification Commission is planning an extensive planting program in an effort to beautify the town. The Chamber of Commerce is planning a "Welcome" sign on the Route 56 approaches with landscaping to give the new comer a pleasant feeling as he nears the town limits. A town where standards are high seems attractive to visitors and strangers and its reputation spreads as being a nice place in which to live or do business, or to which to return. Virginia Beach can be that type of town if the old motto "Let well enough alone" is completely forgotten.

Someone asked the question several days ago "Who writes the insurance policies on buildings owned by the town?" It was understood that several policies had been cancelled since a group of citizens went to Richmond to advocate and protest the two bills pending in the State Legislature.

Who has property which needs protection from the elements? Perhaps the Town can do something about it! Property owners at the South end of the board walk are suffering from serious erosion and disappearing lawns behind the concrete walkway. How far should the town go to protect that personal property and should property owners who have buildings close enough to be effected put up a private share of the expense for self-preservation? If the town sees fit to protect that certain strip of land on the ocean, how far reaching is the obligation to other taxpayers, who, though no fault of their own, have suffered property damage from rain, snow, sleet or hail? Can the town afford to protect each taxpayer's property from the elements? These are "64 questions," no doubt, and will have to be left for wiser heads than our to answer.

Musical Musings

by Milton Epstein

No man has had more derogatory articles written about him than Richard Wagner. His personal conduct, his political activities, his total disregard of the many things we hold necessary to gracious living, are matters of history. Where others have had ecstasies heaped upon them, Wagner only inspired the wrath of his contemporaries. Yet no man is influenced the course of music, and especially opera, than this misanthrope.

His introduction of the "Lied-motif" as a musical signature for the varying characters in his highly imaginative and poetic stories, makes one aware of the presence of the people in his plots though you may only be listening to a synthesis of his opera.

Laurits Melchior, the great "Helden" singer, has recorded many of Wagner's arias. We played the Rome Narrative from "Tannhauser" in which the penitent knight is telling his friend Waltraut of his journey to Rome to plead for forgiveness from the Pope. In this wonderful aria we hear the voice of Venus calling to Tannhauser, and the song of the Pilgrims, showing us the conflict and turmoil in his mind.

From Wagner's less known opera, "The Flying Dutchman," Melchior sings the Steerman's Song, wherein he tells of his perpetual wanderings over the great sea. Few arias are more dramatic than the narrative of Lohengrin; the mysterious knight tells his bride of his origin, and then having been forced to break his vow of secrecy by her importunate pleading, leaves her to return to Parafal, his father, for when Lohengrin's identity is known, he must return to the Holy Grail. Melchior and Flagstad have recorded the magnificent Love Duet from the second act of Tristan and Isolde in a great series of transcriptions. This vibrant, pulsating music pictures the unbridled love of Tristan for the Irish Princess Isolde, whom he has brought to Cornwall for King Marke. A love potion supplied to both of them in lieu of a "Polo Cup" by Isolde's attendant, Brangäne, has made them throw all caution to the winds, and their ecstasy in each other's presence is forcefully and graphically told in music that has rarely been approached, and never surpassed.

Helen Traubel sings three songs by Wagner in a short album, originally a cycle of five; only three are presented in this series. They are, "In the Greenhouse," "Affliction," and "Dreams." These are studies for further use in Tristan and Isolde, but each is a gem of song writing, and all of them are perfectly recorded by Miss Traubel, a very great Wagnerian singer.

Taylor Throws Hat into Election Ring. R. B. Taylor, who is connected with the Virginia Beach Weekly in the capacity of advertising and circulation manager, announced that, at the request of a number of friends, he would enter the race for the position of town clerk and treasurer. W. T. Jarvis, who has held the position of town clerk and treasurer for a number of years, has previously stated that he would be a candidate also for the office.

FEBRUARY 1937

Construction work was begun on the new C. & P. Telephone Building under the supervision of Mr. Gay.

Mayor Willard Ashburn made the announcement that D. S. Calcott's services as resident engineer had been secured. The move was made after investigation showed that the town had paid out approximately $5,000 in engineering fees during the previous year. Mr. Calcott was paid a salary of $2,600 a year.

J. B. Dey, present supervisor of Lynnhaven District, announced his candidacy for the House of Delegates subject to the August Primary, making the race three cornered with Dr. Ammerson Land and the incumbent, J. T. Malbon, in the race.

4-H CLUB NEWS

Intensive campaigns throughout the State to get and maintain a maximum enrollment in 4-H Clubs and to acquaint the general public with the purpose and objectives of 4-H work will mark the observance in Virginia of National 4-H Club Week, March 1-7, said State Club officials.

County agents are being asked, the officials explain, to map an accelerated club program throughout March. Some of the objectives selected for emphasis are: to familiarize all 4-H members with the 1944 theme, "Creating Better Homes Today for a More Responsible Citizenship Tomorrow"; to provide members an opportunity to inventory their activities to date as a "check-up" in carrying out programs; to acquaint parents with what members are already doing; to enlist public-spirited citizens as local leaders; and to give recognition to the far-reaching results of club work.

Mrs. C. T. Hull will leave next week to visit her son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Paul Loesch, at their home in Meadville, Penn.

Mrs. Charles Valentine has returned to her home in Richmond after spending some time with her mother Mrs. H. R. Leonard, on 36th St. She was accompanied home by Mrs. Leonard who will be her guest for two weeks.

Mrs. Stephen Maszyk O'Brien will leave today to visit her niece Mrs. E. L. Brown, in Lido Beach Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Royster, Jr. returned to their home in Cavalier Park on Tuesday after a cruise to the West Indies.

Miss Mary Ann Emerson is visiting her Uncle and Aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Cole, at their home on third Street.

Miss Jane Robinson has returned to Mary Washington College, Fredericksburg, Va., after spending the week end in Charlottesville, Va. and attending the mid-winter dances at the University of Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. James Powell Watson, Jr. have returned to their home on 60th St. after visiting Mrs. Watson's mother, Mrs. John Moyer, in Richmond. Mrs. Leslie Richardson left on Tuesday to spend some time in New York.

SHOPPING DAY

by Margaret Boykin

I did not go shopping today. So I do not know what is down town. Just found two pretty dresses at the Raquette shop, and admired their springlike window. Go and just look, and take a long breath, and you might smell violets. They cost nothing. Anyhow, I am pretty well disgusted with this column, unless someone pays me for a few lines.

Not in business for my health, and if you folks want to read this column just call me at 2180 and ask for prices. They are so moderate you will be disgusted, very probably.

Also, this money is not for my own use. Will tell you that if you ask. If for ten dollars or cents I can support a young Chinese boy at a fine church school — Well what do you Virginia Beach folks think of my poor efforts anyhow?

At least do not "damn with faint praise". Better business for Virginia Beach town is another one of my aims, believe it or not. Shall not go gunning around looking for clients. Too many dishes to wash.

Margaret Boykin 2180

Miss Jane Kornegay arrived days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Kornegay, all from Durham, N. C. to spend a few home on 53rd Street.

ROTARIANS HOLD PARTY MEETING

With their district governor in attendance, members of the Virginia Beach Rotary Club and their wives enjoyed a full evening at their annual Rotarian Party at the Cavalier Hotel on Saturday, February 21st.

Highlight of the evening's program was the principal address by S. Wade Marr of Elizabeth City, North Carolina. Marr further entertained a very entertaining program with his humorous remarks, deriving into his own background and the background of native Virginians. Marr drew repeated applause from the more than 100 persons in the audience.

Ralph H. "Bob" Bogle, governor of the 17th district of Rotary International, and Mrs. Bogle were guests of the Virginia Beach club for the evening. President Frank D. Shean, as a part of the program, presented a check for $525 to Bogle representing the local club's 100% contribution to the Paul Harris Memorial Fund. Harris, who died last year, founded Rotary forty-three years ago in Chicago. The Virginia Beach club becomes the twenty-first club in the 17th district to reach the 100% mark. Governor Bogle reported.

Before dinner, which was held in the Colonial Room of the hotel, Rotarians and their guests enjoyed a cocktail hour in the Hunt Room of the Hotel. Following the dinner the party moved to the Panorama Room of the Beach Club for dancing. Albin R. Malhes served as program chairman for the evening.

A PROPOSAL TO REGULATE THE TAKING OF FISH IN BACK BAY AND PROHIBITING THE SALE OF SAME.

A meeting of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries was held at Richmond, Virginia, January 14, 1945, at which meeting the proposal hereinafter stated was authorized. A further meeting will be held at Richmond, Virginia, March 18, 1945, at which time the said proposal will be acted upon: That regulation regarding fishing in Back Bay, adopted August 14, 1945, be amended to read as follows:

That it shall be unlawful to seine and sell bream, sunfish, silver or speckled perch or crappie in Back Bay and its natural tributaries, not including Lake Tomsah and Red Wing Lake, the North Landing River up to Pungo Ferry and the Black Water River up to Blackwater Bridge, open season for catching all fish except bass, bream, sunfish, silver or speckled perch or crappie, November 1-March 31, inclusive; length of nets shall be not more than 300 yards. The size of mesh shall be not less nor greater than one and one-half inches, or three inch bar.

That all parts of regulations in conflict with the foregoing be rescinded.

The FABLE of the EMBARRASSED MONKEY WRENCH

Once upon a time, in a Norfolk and Western stock room, there was a proud young Monkey Wrench. He came from a long line of Wrenches who, in their time, were Very Important. He felt Very Important, too, and yearned to take his place in the world.

As he passed the tool room, he saw many strange, new tools—but no monkey wrenches. "How they must need me!" he gloated. "How Very Important I am!" And he hurried on to the machine shops his father so often had talked about. There, amidst great activity, he approached a machinist who was busily adjusting his lathe, and grandly offered his services. But the machinist shook his head. "I've got special wrenches for every job, Bub," he said. "Try the roundhouse."

So the proud young Monkey Wrench hurried to the roundhouse. Here he saw great locomotives, and much industry. "Here," said the Monkey Wrench, "is where I'm needed!" But although he saw many jobs which Wrenches need to do, nobody needed him. Worriedly, he decided to try the car shops... but the story there was just the same. Never and better tools had taken his place. Nobody had time for him when there were wrenches custom-made for most every job. It was Very Embarrassing.

This fable proves more than the simple fact that monkey wrenches are not what they used to be.

The moral is that in railroading, as in all other businesses, some methods which were believed to be irreplaceable—"here to stay"—no longer offer top efficiency. When better ways come along, those methods are discarded. The Norfolk and Western for many years has been among the first to seek better methods and better equipment to do a better job—whether these methods concern wrenches, locomotives, cranes, traffic control system, steam plant or any of the thousands of things which make up railroading. The objective of the Norfolk and Western's constant application of newer and better ways is to provide the shipping and traveling public with constantly better service.

Where Does Your Money Go?
Read the other day where country folks and farmers spend more money, proportionately, on their homes than city dwellers do. Doesn't seem hard to believe when you think it over. Take the folks in our town, for instance: They're home-loving people—who'd rather spend an evening by the fire with a mellow glass of beer than go out in search of entertainment or diversion. So it's only natural they put more into what means most to them and to their children: their homes. They may not have too much to spend—but it goes for those permanent, abiding comforts that make home a nicer place to be. And from where I sit, that budget calls for some of the niceties of home life too—like elder and popcorn for the kids from time to time, and a friendly glass of beer for Mom and Dad... things that belong with what we mean when we say "Home."

GETTING MARRIED? HERE'S HOW TO HAVE A HAPPY ALUMINUM ANNIVERSARY!
According to legend, the tenth wedding anniversary is known as the aluminum anniversary. One of the nicest presents you can receive on this happy day is the gift of extra money. You can insure that gift before you say "I do"—by investing your savings now in United States Savings Bonds. In ten years, your government will pay you back four dollars for every three you've invested. There's no finer way of insuring financial security for couples just entering marriage. Start now to save these "bonds of matrimony!" Enlist in your firm's Payroll Savings Plan. If you are in business or in a profession, and the Payroll Savings Plan is not available to you, take advantage of the Bond-A-Month Plan at your bank.

Follies Chairmen See Success Ahead

The Junior Woman's Club of Princess Anne County announces the first annual Beach Follies to be presented at the Beach Theatre on March 3rd, at 8:00 P. M.

Miss Kitty Manby, general chairman of the Beach Follies, says that committee chairmen are making their reports with a general sigh of satisfaction and a feeling that the end of their labors is in sight.

Mrs. M. F. Cox, program chairman, and her committee, has done an excellent job, Miss Manby said, in getting together all material for the program, which is in the part invitations to serve as patrons for the Follies had been graciously accepted and approximately one hundred and fifty residents of Virginia Beach and Norfolk are on the patron's list.

Costuming for the production has been under the chairmanship of Mrs. W. J. Dickson, Jr. who says that the entire cast has been outfitted and promised to be a very colorful production.

Mrs. Sam J. Foy and Mrs. Al Mathews have secured all the the evening, and promised additional highlights of the Follies in a program of music, dancing and specialty acts.

The entire program of the Beach Follies is made up of chorus and specialty numbers with Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County young women and men participating.

In the first act a group of "Show Girls and Play Boys" will be presented in a dance number entitled "Tonight at Eight Thirty." Baritone Armentrout will render the vocal interpretation of a skit titled "The Butcher, The Baker, The for on Virginia Beach," featuring Ed Rann, George Webb, Harry Rumble and Gordon Baskin. The skit is entitled "If Men Played Cards As Women Do."

Following this skit Emmanuel (Sparky) Chambers and Bob Hagwood will present "Juvenile Jive" with accordion and clarinet accompanying dance numbers.

Girl and Boy Jitterbugs, Julia Nelms and Hazel Tucker in a specialty number, "Ballet Invades the Drama," and a grand finale with Ben McCleskey, Jean Hagwood and Joe White in the singing roles will complete the program at the Beach Theatre.
